FEAR AUTO MAN KIDNAPED

Dorchester Man Gone With $10,000

Auto Dealer Vanishes—Eugene T. Irwin, 32-year-old Dorchester auto dealer and candy manufacturer, is shown with his wife, Marguerite, in a picture taken during their honeymoon five months ago. Irwin vanished yesterday afternoon after going to South Station with checks and cash totaling $10,000 to keep an appointment in connection with the purchase of an expensive car. It is feared he has been kidnaped.

Balked—Mrs. Robert Anderson, 29, charges her husband held her prisoner in their Worcester apartment for 10 days to balk her from leaving for California. "He locked me up when he left the house," she said. Anderson is being held for ransom.

Disloyalty Report Called Inadequate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R.) of New Jersey of the House Committee on Un-American Activities today described as "utterly farcical" the list of some 80 organizations labeled by Atty.-Gen. Clark as subversive or otherwise suspect.

"If the attorney-general can't do any better than this," Thomas told a reporter, "the committee on Un-American Activities will supply a list that will put him to shame."

"There are hundreds of Communist and Communist front organizations alone."

Clark got out his list last night. It named, among others, the Communist Party, the German American Bund, the Ku Klux Klan, Columbians, American Youth Congress, the joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee and the now disbanded Hollywood Writers Mobilization for Defense.

The list is to be used in checking on the loyalty of government workers. It was relayed to heads of all government agencies by Seth W. Richardson, chairman of the Administration's Loyalty Review Board.

MAY BE EXPANDED
The Attorney-General said the list is not "complete or final" and may be expanded as investigations warrant the addition of other organizations.

In a letter to Richardson transmitting the list, Clark said that as President Truman has pointed out, "it is entirely possible" that many persons belonging to such organizations may be loyal to this country.

While declaring that Clark's list "might be a good start," Thomas asserted:

"This list affords me the opportunity to again call on the Attorney General to show that he is sincere in fighting Communism by enforcing both the Voorhis and McCormack acts requiring the registration of agents of foreign governments."

"In this connection, I shall recommend to my committee that it call upon the Attorney General to appear before it to tell us why these acts have not been enforced, or if they cannot be enforced, how they can be strengthened."

The committee chairman called Clark's list "woefully incomplete." Thumbing through it, Thomas picked out 37 organizations he said are Communist or Communist front agencies. In the same category, he said, his committee has a list of several hundred organizations cited by various federal and state authorities.

Clark broke his list down into three parts. The first repeated the names of 47 organizations the Justice Department classified officially as subversive in a 1943 report.

COMMUNISTS ON 2 LISTS
The second added 33 organizations in accordance with an order by President Truman several months ago directing the loyalty check on federal employees.

The Communist party is on both lists. And seven "affiliates and committees" are included on the second. Also on the second list are two "affiliates" of the Civil Rights Congress.

List No. 3 names these 11 schools as "adjuncts of the Communist Party":

- Abraham Lincoln School, Chicago.
- George Washington Carver School, New York city.
- Jefferson School of Social Science, New York city.
- Ohio School of Social Sciences, Philadelphia.
- School of Social Science and Art.

U. S. to Ask Voluntary Cut in Pleasure Driving

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—An appeal, probably from the White House, for a voluntary cutback in pleasure driving today was forecast by Interior Department officials.

Robert E. Friedman, counsel for the department's oil and gas division, told the joint congressional economic committee about the "voluntary program" and said the appeal would be made by next week-end.

Earlier Undersecretary Oscar L. Chapman said interior officials have made no plans to "roll back prices" of gasoline or coal. He made the statement as he urged Congress to take emergency now-

King Michael Red Bridal Ban Denied

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Dec. 5 (AP)—Maj. Jacques Vergotti, private secretary to King Michael of Romania, said today the King soon would ask the Bucharest government for permission to marry Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma.

Vergotti indignantly denied a London press report that the Romanian government already had forbidden the marriage as the result of a Russian veto.

He described the London report—which appeared in the Daily Graphic—as a "stupid, malicious story" designed to disrupt relations between King Michael and the Romanian government.

"It is quite true that the government must sanction the marriage," Vergotti declared, "but the King has not yet given any notice of his intention and will not do so for a few days."

Five-Mile Fire Out of Control In Arab Attack on Tel Aviv

JERUSALEM, Dec. 5 (AP)—Fires swept out of control in an Arab attack on all Jewish Tel Aviv tonight as the week's deaths in communal fighting in the Middle East illuminated a five-mile-long battle front centering on Tel force. One Jew was known killed and another was wounded.

Five minutes later, shots started pouring into the Zablavi quarter homes of Jewish ex-servicemen.

An Arab was reported unofficially to have been beaten to death by Jews, who found him carrying a bomb on the Moghrabi sq. in the center of Tel Aviv. Another Arab was reported killed by a bomb tossed by Jews into his garage at Haifa during the morning.

Hagana sources reported this morning five Arabs were killed and several wounded yesterday when Jewish settlers repulsed an attack by 30 Arabs on Efat, near Tel Aviv. There were no Jewish casualties, Hagana said.

British troops still were at their posts throughout Palestine.

"We got new orders last night," one army officer said. "Today we are taking no nonsense."

Man Missing With $10,000, Fear Kidnap

Eugene T. Irwin, 32, Hartford st., Dorchester, wealthy automobile dealer and candy manufacturer, was believed to be in the hands of kidnapers today, his captors playing for stakes of at least $10,000 and his life in peril. Irwin, a bridegroom of five months, vanished about 2 p. m. yesterday after going to the South Station with two certified checks and cash totalling $10,000 to keep an appointment wherein he was to buy a new Cadillac for $4400.

Police moved swiftly, picking up a Quincy man, an ex-convict, who admitted, they said, he was to have acted as an intermediary in the automobile deal and met Irwin at the South Station yesterday. He refused to tell of his movements after that.

It was revealed Irwin had been uneasy about the deal. He asked a trustworthy friend, William Cavanaugh of Dorchester, to accompany him to the South Station. Cavanaugh's assignment was to keep an eye on the Quincy intermediary but he told police he had been ordered to move his parked automobile and when he returned to the spot where he had left Irwin with the ex-convict they were gone.

Police learned the automobile transaction was scheduled to take place after the Quincy suspect led Irwin to a man named "Andrews" in Postoffice sq. No one who saw the Dorchester man in that district had been found today.

The man in custody was picked up in the Quincy apartment of a woman not his wife, police said.

It was customary for Irwin to carry large sums of money, according to his friends and business associates. Nor was he lacking in courage, they said, referring to an incident last year when he was held up on the West Boston bridge but leaped from his car and seized the bandit, an armed sailor. He declined to prosecute because it was the Christmas season.

It was believed the kidnapers might try to cash the certified checks as soon as the banks opened this morning but police had alerted tellers throughout the city.

Belief it was a kidnaping case was expressed without qualification by John A. Irwin, who disclosed his brother's wife, the former Marguerite Jennings of Dorchester, was near collapse.

Irwin recently purchased a 14-room house. His holdings, in addition to the candy company, included the Irwin Motors, Dorchester ave.; Irwin Transportation Co., and the Boston and Hartford Realty Co.

He had accumulated considerable wealth during the war by transporting automobiles to many parts of the country for sale in war plant areas.

Police teletype messages described him as 5 feet 8, weighing 185 pounds, wearing a brown suit with white pencil stripes, a brownish-green topcoat with matching hat, a white shirt and brown shoes.

PATERNITY SUIT OPENS—Press Agent Johnny Meyer arrives at New York court for the opening of the suit in which Patricia Miles (right) claims Meyer is the father of her young son.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, FRIDAY, DEC. 5, 1947

Trysts at Dawn in Meyer's Suite Told Court by Bellhop

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (INS)—Johnny Meyer's boy Friday—a bellhop at the Sherry-Netherland hotel—testified behind closed doors today at the Patricia Miles paternity case in which the former nightclub cigaret girl charges the press agent with fathering her son.

BULLETIN

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (INS)—John W. Meyer today was found by the three justices of Special Sessions not to be the father of the son of Patricia Miles, ex-hat check girl. Their decision to dismiss Miss Miles' charges was unanimous.

The testimony was given by Martin O'Leary, 31, The New York Journal-American quoted reliable court attendants as saying the bellhop told the court he had taken Patricia to the suite of Howard Hughes' free-spending press agent two or three times a week and "always between 4 a. m. and 5:30 a. m."

The Journal-American said O'Leary testified Patricia always arrived just before the time the sun was breaking over Central Park, to the hotel's north.

The newspaper also quoted the bellhop as testifying he would bring Patricia upstairs on instruction from Meyer and escort her to his suite on the 19th floor.

JOHNNY WORE BATHROBE

He was further quoted as saying he had sometimes observed Meyer wearing a bathrobe but that he always saw the two of them properly attired.

The newspaper said O'Leary testified also as to Meyer's eating habits and described the rotund publicity man as having an appetite that "would eat up a normal man's bankroll." He said he always was ordering ham and eggs in the dawn.

Patricia, who seeks $100,000 from Meyer, was put under cross-examination. She had testified for more than two hours yesterday.

Meyer was late as the case was called into star-chamber session. Patricia was talking with reporters at the courtroom door when Meyer hurriedly made his entrance.

IGNORE EACH OTHER

Meyer stopped when he was within about five feet of her. Surprised, Patricia gasped. Meyer said nothing, not even a hello. She was as reticent.

From Patricia herself came the statement she had told the court an emissary from Johnny brought her $150 in July, 1946, for an abortion.

SHOWN CHECKS

Asked if she had testified to having an abortion, she answered, "I said I did not—I had little Douglas."

The rotund press agent whose testimony in Washington during the Hughes hearings had centered around lavish expense accounts, handed money to her in mere $20 and $25 lots, according to Patricia.

Gale-Lashed 3 to 6 Inch Snowfall Due

A light snow that fell around noon today was only the prelude to a snowfall of three to six inches due to hit southern New England late this afternoon, the weather bureau said, with a mixture of sleet and freezing rain whipped by easterly winds reaching 35 miles an hour in Boston and 45 offshore before it peters out at midnight.

Nature of the storm prompted the weather bureau to issue a special bulletin warning motorists of hazardous driving conditions, advising observance of all safety precautions and urging them to proceed at greatly reduced speeds.

The warning caused Mayor Curley to spur the Public Works Department to quick action in combating the effects of the storm. "Don't let it get ahead of you," he told Public Works Comm. Robert P. Curley. "Clean it up over the week-end beginning now. The Park Department does a good job on the roads it is assigned to clear. Let's get the same service on the city's streets."

Brunt of the first heavy snow of the season is due to strike Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, touching New Hampshire and Vermont only lightly in the southern portions.

In the wake of the storm there will be a five-day cold wave with temperatures averaging 3 to 9 degrees below the seasonal normal.

The temperature fell sharply over Massachusetts, shrinking the mercury from 51.8 to below freezing in a matter of 30 hours.

Coldest spot in New England early today was Caribou, Me., where the temperature dropped to 2 above.

French Police Ordered to Fire on Mobs

PARIS, Dec. (AP)—The Minister of the Interior announced to the National Assembly tonight he had authorized French police to fire on mobs. Communist deputies shouted "assassins!"

Troops and police were on the alert throughout the strike-bound nation after another day of turmoil, during which strikers in two cities temporarily wrested control from authorities.

The minister's announcement came after government workers began walking off their jobs in the newest strike, blacking out electric power, halting subways and choking off communications. Sailors and Mobile Guards moved into power houses at once and re-established some of the service.

Police opened an investigation of a bombing late last night at the home of Communist leader Maurice Thorez in suburban Choisy-le-Roi.

Today's power failure was the second in Paris this week.

The key industrial center of St. Etienne, near Lyon, was reported virtually in the hands of its 50,000 strikers, with strike committee "police" said to be in control of streets and newspapers there.

Milan Mob Storms Stock Exchange as Prices Fall

MILAN, Italy, Dec. 5 (AP)—Stocks plummeted in Milan today, touching off a riot by a mob which stormed the stock exchange.

Small traders, apparently panicked over the prospect of paper losses of millions of lire, invaded the trading pit and chased out the operators, temporarily halting business. Police cleared the floor, but the demonstrators gathered outside and screamed invective.

A spokesman for the Bank of Italy in Rome said no new factors had arisen to cause the break. The drop in prices of stocks has been under way in Milan and Rome for several days, and the position of speculators holding for higher prices has become untenable.

11 Hurt as El Bus, Truck Crash

Eleven persons were injured today when a Boston Elevated bus collided with the rear end of a truck which had halted for a traffic light outside one of the Navy Yard gates in Chelsea sq., Charlestown.

Only one person, Larry Forbes, of West Milton st., Reville, driver of the bus, was taken to the hospital. He was treated at Massachusetts General Hospital for abrasions of the chin and groin.

The other 10, who claimed injury, but said they would seek treatment from their own physicians, included James L. Livingston, East st., Lowell, driver of the truck, and his helper, Francis Bernardine, Bourne st., Lowell, and eight bus passengers.

They were Edith Traymore, 33, and Iris Traymore, 4, both of Collyer rd., Brighton; Rose Harrison, Pearl st., Somerville; Helen Leyden, Churchill st., Saugus; and Thomas Scanlon, Austin st., James Conside, O'Brien ct., Owen Connelly, Elm st., and John O'Donnell,

The youth, Robert B. Anderson, 24, of Berkshire st., was arraigned in district court on a charge of disturbing the peace. His case was continued to Dec. 15 and further continuances will be ordered by the court until the observation period is completed, since district court cases may only be continued for 10 days at a time.

Police went to his home last night after receiving a telegram from police of San Jose, Cal., that Mrs. Ida Anderson, 29, was being detained forcibly there. Arresting officers claimed they found Anderson beating her when they entered the apartment.

MET IN CALIFORNIA

In court today, his attorney, Albert E. Maykel, entered a general denial of the wife's allegations. He told the court she was a former night club hostess who had met Anderson while he was stationed at San Jose as a fighter pilot. They were married 15 months ago, he said.

"But once he took off the wings the glamor departed, as far as she was concerned," Maykel said. "He wanted to make a home but she wanted night life."

Mrs. Anderson, who claimed her husband has imprisoned her since she sought to return to California, did not disclose who had smuggled word to friends on the West Coast that she was a prisoner. She said a friend had sent a telegram for her disclosing her plight.

Her San Jose friends evidently turned the message over to police there, and they wired Worcester officers to investigate.

The California girl said that for 10 days she had been unable to leave the apartment, her husband forcing her by threats to remain peacefully in the dwelling while he was there.

When he left for an errand or to go to work, she said, he locked her in and took most of her clothing along with him. Twice he left her nude, she told police.

ESCAPE TRY FAILS

Her imprisonment began last week when she tried to escape to California in the family car, according to her story to police.

She said she drove out of Worcester, and in nearby Auburn halted for gasoline, unaware that her husband was in close pursuit in a taxi.

When police first received the puzzling wire from Chief J. R. Blackmore of San Jose, they telephoned the couple's apartment and talked with the girl.

She told them she was unable to converse with them at length at that time because her husband was within listening range, but she would call them back.

Keep Troops in Italy, Rep. Lodge Warning

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—Rep. Lodge (R.) of Connecticut declared today United States troops should stay in Italy indefinitely "to assure law and order."

"In the peace treaty we signed with Italy," he told the House during debate on the $590,000,000 foreign relief bill, "we agreed to guarantee her essential nationhood. We must be in a position to live up to our obligations."

The treaty provided for occupation troops to be withdrawn within 90 days after the treaty's ratification.

Lodge said withdrawal of U. S. troops has been postponed from Dec. 3 to 15. It should now be put off indefinitely and the American garrison in Italy increased, he said.

"We must be in a position to make sure the peace treaty regarding Trieste is carried out," Lodge said.

"Our lines of supply into Austria and Trieste must be guaranteed, or the lives of our troops in Italy will be at stake, in fact may be forfeited."

Lodge was chairman of a House foreign affairs subcommittee which investigated economic and political conditions in Italy this fall.

Lodge's speech broke into a pattern of alternate attack on and defense of the relief bill from a dozen other members.

One of the earlier speakers, Rep. Jonkman (R.) of Michigan announced he would make an effort to cut the foreign aid program to $300,000,000. The House is now in general debate and no amendments will be considered until Monday.

As the House went on with general debate, Rep. Mason (R.) of Illinois assailed the Administration's entire foreign policy.

way to get to work was by taxi-cab or bus. The cabs carried all they could hold and those who couldn't get a taxi tried to claw their way on a bus.

Swensen Murder Case Nears Jury

Final arguments in the second degree murder trial of Russell Swensen of Roxbury produced renewed fireworks in Suffolk Superior Court today with Defense Counsel William R. Scharton demanding a directed verdict after charging Asst. Dist. Atty. Frederick T. Doyle with inflaming the jurors.

Scharton rushed to the bench with his demand to Judge Lewis R. Goldberg as Doyle concluded his argument with a eulogy of Police Sgt. William F. Healey, shot and killed in a South End burglary last year, as a "courageous man, doing his duty and protecting your kids and mine."

Judge Goldberg thought momentarily as Scharton persisted angrily in his demand for a directed verdict. Then he turned and addressed the jurors, saying:

"The defense objects to Mr. Doyle's statement. It is of no consequence to you who the man who was killed. Whether he was a patrolman, a sergeant, a captain or just a plain tramp is of no consequence in your deliberations. What he was doing at the time he was killed does not concern you."

CASE NEARS JURY

The case was to be given to the jury on completion of Judge Goldberg's charge, which he began when court resumed after the noon recess.

Today's outburst was less spectacular than yesterday's when the defendant's brother, Fritz, now serving life in State Prison after his second degree murder conviction in the case last April, cried out accusations from the stand and laughed at Doyle when he was being cross-examined as a defense witness.

Killer Gets 3-5 Years On Manslaughter Plea

Joseph M. D'Ambrosio, 35, of Magnolia ave., Cambridge, on trial on a second-degree murder charge in Middlesex Superior Court, changed his plea to guilty of manslaughter today and was sentenced to three to five years in State Prison by Judge John V. Sullivan.

D'Ambrosio went on trial last Monday in connection with the death of Enzo Spurio, 35, of Evergreen sq., Somerville, a fellow worker, who died after an altercation with the defendant July 11.

Truman Urged To Free Jailed GI's

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—President Truman today was asked to free members of the armed forces convicted by court-martial and imprisoned for minor offenses during the war.

In a letter to the President, requesting amnesty for these "many hundreds of young men," Sen. Jenner of Indiana said the action might save many from becoming hardened criminals.

His request applied only to those with good prison records.

Mayor Curley of Boston, freed by executive order just before Thanksgiving after serving five months for using the mails to defraud, has made a similar request to the President.

Three alarms were sounded in Charlestown when fire roared high in the air at the James A. Glass Co. plant, a wood clothing shop in the heart of a thickly residential district.

Smoke poured into homes surrounding the plant in Lawrence st., as well as other dwellings in Austin and Benedict sts.

Firemen awakened residents in a dozen adjoining buildings and ordered them out.

Fire officials were unable as yet to assign a cause or give a damage estimate.

In the Dedham fire, 12 persons fled just ahead of the flames, salvaging only the night clothing they were wearing, when fire swept a three-story block on Eastern ave., just out of Dedham sq.

Mrs. Emily Patton, 50, and her daughter, Mrs. Emily Murray, 30, were awakened by choking smoke and within minutes had aroused other dwellers.

A general alarm was sounded as the flames quickly spread into all sections of the old wooden structure, which houses a plumbing shop and an express office on the first floor.

Others driven out were Mrs. Marian Bonanno, 36, and her children, Robert, 9; Geraldine, 6; Beverly, 1, and Diana, 8 weeks, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith and their daughters, Irene, 20, and Betty, 16, as well as a roomer, Chester Cameron, 62.

The building was destroyed with loss estimated at nearly $20,000, destroying all belongings of the occupants.

Largest Toothpick Plant Razed by Fire

STRONG, Me., Dec. 5—A tiny spark was blamed today for a fire that caused $1,000,000 damage here and left 1000 persons jobless.

R. J. Steffins, vice-president of the Forster Manufacturing Co., world's largest toothpick makers, said a metal machine broke on the night shift, causing a spark which exploded dust.

Charles Wilson, an employee whose house is near the plant, said:

"A ball of fire tore through the roof and the flames went right through the mill."

About 200 night shift workers reached the street, all unhurt except one who suffered face and hand burns.

Steffins said the fire in the three-story wooden plant would idle 700 workers here and 300 in

3 Firemen Injured At 2 Lowell Blazes

LOWELL, Dec. 5—Three firemen were injured here today in fighting one of two blazes which forced more than a dozen householders to flee their homes in the low temperatures of early morning and seek refuge with neighbors.

Damage of $5000 was caused to a two-family house in Webber st., where George R. Harris and James H. O'Sullivan, with their wives and children, a total of eight fled a basement fire.

Firemen hurt were Joseph Sautis, 31, of Charles st.; John J. Dutton, 40, of Broadway, and William Linnhan, 41, of Shaw st. All were treated and released at St. John's Hospital.

Ex-Deb Divorced as Alcoholic Cites Cure, Sues for Children

After her wealthy husband divorced her, and she was penniless, with their two children in need, he boasted to her how "fortunate he was in having a butler to wait on him" at the family's Marblehead Neck estate, Mrs. Esther Baker Percival, ex-Brookline deb, testified in Probate Court today.

This, she added, was at a time when she had to borrow $14 from the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children so she could take care of their son and daughter.

And they, she went on, were attending the exclusive Fessenden and Ten Acres schools, Newton and Wellesley, with annual tuition bills of $1500 to $1800 each being paid by her husband's parents.

Mrs. Percival was in court asking for legal custody of the children, who were entrusted to their father, David C. Percival, Jr.

David C. Percival, Jr., member of a wholesale jewelry firm and Harvard Club resident. He divorced her in 1945, after an estrangement of seven years, testifying she was an alcoholic and also addicted to drugs.

SWORE OFF DRINKING

Percival, who is fighting modification of the divorce decree, nevertheless consented to let her have the children and they have been living with her for a year while not at school, she testified.

Mrs. Percival told the court she had sworn off liquor New Year's Day, 1947.

"That's a bad day for everyone," interposed Judge Robert G. Wilson, Jr.

Dr. Joseph Thiemann, psychiatrist and medical director of the Washingtonian Hospital, Waltham st., South End, took the stand for Mrs. Percival, testifying she had been a patient there.

ONCE CHRONIC ALCOHOLIC

She had come to him as a chronic alcoholic, he informed the court but he had seen "on signs of a relapse" over a period of 11 months. He added:

"Her drinking followed the pattern of her husband's drinking. The chance of a relapse now, after a year, is negligible. She has as good a chance as any patient I have treated."

Mrs. Percival told the court she

Prison Escapees Re-Sentenced

Earl Baker, serving a life term for murder, and his brother, George, sentenced to five concurrent terms of 8 to 10 years for breaking and entering and larceny, pleaded guilty in superior court today to charges of escaping from Charlestown State Prison last September and were given additional sentences of 1 to 3 years by Judge Allan G. Buttrick.

The brothers were recaptured 10 minutes after their escape.

George H. Hayes, a fellow convict scheduled to face similar charges, is at Norfolk Prison Colony with a broken back, suffered when he leaped out of a Cambridge window as police closed in on him after he had been on the loose for two months. He is under sentence of 12 to 15 years for armed robbery.

General Maud Ballington Booth, head of the Volunteers of America, sprightly and gracious for all her 82 years, paid a visit to a comparative youngster today—Mayor Curley, a mere 73.

For the added virtue of being "a woman of great intellect as well as beauty," the mayor presented her with a precedent-shattering two silver dollars instead of the customary one.

10 Film Figures Indicted For Contempt in Red Probe

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (INS)—A federal grand jury today indicted 10 Hollywood writers, directors and producers for contempt of Congress in refusing to state whether they are members of the Communist party.

Assist. U.S. Atty. William Hitz said he would ask arraignment of the group for either Dec. 19 or Jan. 2, with the trials set for January.

Hitz said the government assumed that the ten would ask separate trials, and that bench warrants for their arrest would be issued as soon as arraignment dates are set.

The indictments were returned before U.S. District Judge David A. Pine.

Eight of the ten were indicted on two counts—refusing to state whether they are Communists and refusal to acknowledge membership in the Screen Writers Guild.

Two, John Howard Lawson and Edward Dmytryk, were indicted only on count pertaining to Communist membership.

The eight named on the two counts are Albert Maltz, Dalton Trumbo, Samuel Ornitz, Ring Lardner, Jr., Herbert Bierman, Adrian Scott, Lester Cole and Alvah Bessie.

Maximum possible sentences are a year in jail and $1000 fine on each count.

The 10, by action of the Ass'n of Motion Picture Producers, already have been barred from screen work.

The indictments grew out of the appearances of the 10 before the House Un-American Activities Committee.

The grand jury turned from its consideration of a possible perjury indictment against Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers to dispose of evidence in the Hollywood case.

Top priority was given the contempt matter at the request of Atty. Clark.

Hartford Hotel Head Bars 'Red' Youth Group

HARTFORD, Ct., Dec. 5 (AP)—The Connecticut State Youth conference today was barred from holding its scheduled January meeting at Hotel Bond on orders issued by Willard B. Rogers, president of the hotel.

"The Hotel Bond is not open to them," Rogers said flatly on learning the organization was one of 71 listed by Atty. Gen. Tom Clark in Washington yesterday as "totalitarian, fascist, communist or subversive."

"The place for them to meet is in Russia," continued Rogers. "I'm through tolerating these groups."

Britain, France Stall Pact on German Assets

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (INS)—The United States, Canada and The Netherlands agreed today on a formula for settling conflicting claims to German enemy assets, but Great Britain and France refused to go along.

NATURE WINS

SUN VALLEY, Ida., Dec. 5 (AP)—Several snowstorms bypassed this winter resort so officials decided to scatter dry ice pellets from an airplane.

Sun Valley weather experts waited for the appearance of a certain cloud formation. It came yesterday and a plane, piloted by Bob Savaria, dumped 50 pounds of dry ice over the Ketchum-Sun Valley area.

Result: No snow. Then four hours later the season's first heavy snowfall—nature's own work—blanketed the area.

Truman Qualifies As Submariner

KEY WEST, Fla., Dec. 5 (INS)—President Truman stepped jauntily aboard a submarine at the U. S. naval base today to become a qualified submariner entitled to obedience from "seamen, politicians, bureaucrats and land-lubbers" alike.

A half-hour ceremony on the deck of the former German submarine, U-2513, highlighted the third day of Mr. Truman's Florida vacation which has been marked by sun-bathing, rest and relaxation.

The President arose at 7:20 this morning, breakfasted on bacon and eggs, and then walked from his quarters to the U-2513 to receive a plaque and scroll from the "admiral of the undersea navy," R. Adm. James Fife.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—Declaring a shortage of nails "can add infinitely" to housing costs, Sen. Flanders (R.) of Vermont, called today for "immediate action" to ease the scarcity.

Fraternity Pair Given Year For Beating Girl Date Rival

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Dec. 5 (AP)—A judge who said there "is nothing left for me to do" sentenced two members of a sub-rosa high school fraternity to prison today for the "unlawful wounding" of an outsider who dated a fraternity brother's girl friend.

Richard E. Fendergast, 20, and Robert T. Peatterson, 19, pleaded guilty. Prosecutor Edward H. Greene said the incident was one of a series of "gang beatings" involving the illicit fraternity. Common pleas Judge H. Clay Warth said in pronouncing sentence:

"I'm sorry about it, and don't like to do it. If it were just the two of you, it would be different. But there is an organization, reportedly still active, which seems to think it has the right to take the law into its own hands."

"According to my information, five of you boys went to the victim's home and two of you attacked him in his own house. His eyes were almost put out and his nose was broken, and when his sister-in-law tried to intervene she was bitten on the arm."

The attack was on Rafael Bastianelli, 18, last May 19.

Bromo Seltzer Heir Declared Gun Suicide

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (AP)—Frederick McCormack, 50, prominent racing yachtsman and an heir to the Emerson Bromo Seltzer fortune, died yesterday shortly after he was found unconscious in his penthouse apartment, a self-inflicted bullet wound in his head, police reported.

McCormack, who maintained homes in suburban Baltimore and at Narragansett Pier, R. I., was the son of the late Mrs. Isaac Emerson, wife of the "Bromo Seltzer King." McCormack's wife, socialite Margaret McNeil McCormack, instituted divorce proceedings last August, charging abandonment.

Marshall Blasts Molotov Reich Maneuver

LONDON, Dec. 5 (AP)—Sec. Marshall urged the Foreign Ministers Council today to drop generalities and try to find out what each delegation really had in mind for settling peace terms with Germany.

Marshall attacked Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov's almost daily demands for quick creation of a neutral German government and declared:

"Any German government called upon to administer a Germany divided as it is today by the policies of the occupying powers would be a sham and a delusion."

French Foreign Minister Bidault took to the conference a prepared statement that France would accept Anglo-American plans to raise the level of industry in Germany—if France obtained sufficient guarantees against future aggression.

Sec. Marshall arrived half an hour early for his luncheon appointment with Molotov today and chose to drive around London on a sight-seeing trip rather than wait in the Russian embassy, his aides said.

American sources said Marshall arrived early because of a misunderstanding over the time of the luncheon. He was received courteously and offered the hospitality of the embassy but told attaches that Ambassador Lewis Douglas, who accompanied him, had been wanting to show him points of interest in London. Marshall later returned.

"Complainant who wished to remain anonymous vowed he would cause the offending canine to become extinct if gentlemen didn't halt its depredations."

Horse Drowns as Cart Plunges Into Pit

A horse was drowned in a 50-foot water-filled pit in the New England Brick Co. yard in North Cambridge today when the dumpcart he had backed to the edge of the pit plunged over and dragged the animal with it.

Company employees said it was the third horse to meet a like fate in two years.

Bigamist Keeps 2 Families Secret 20 Yrs. as Neighbors

CHICAGO, Dec. 5 (INS)—A 60-year-old Chicago railroad conductor refused to tell in circuit court how he successfully maintained two wives and families in the same section of the city for 20 years.

As court officials plied him with questions, Thomas Lawrence Foley lowered his eyes and smiled: "It's confidential."

Foley first married in 1909 and had three children by his wife, Bertha. He married again in 1927, this time as Thomas Lawrence Healy. By his second wife, Eva, he had two children, a boy now 12, and a girl, 9. Foley settled both his families on Chicago's Northwest side.

Neither wife's suspicion was aroused because Foley's job keeps him out of town a lot.

His double life was discovered last September when Mrs. Healy went to a tailor shop where her husband left his suit for cleaning. The tailor said he had no customer named Healy. When Mrs. Healy described her husband the tailor replied:

"Oh, no, no, those suits belong to Mr. Foley. Mr. T. L. Foley. His name is inked on the flap of the left hip pocket."

So Monday, sheriff's deputies met Foley as his train pulled into Chicago. Mrs. Bertha Foley visited her husband at the lockup and said she would stand by him. Judge Julius H. Miner fixed bail at $5000.

Court officials remained puzzled as to how he kept the Foleys and Healys apart so well, and how he supported two families on his salary, yet kept every one happy.

Notre Dame Alumni Plan Communion Breakfast

The University of Notre Dame Alumni Club of Boston will receive Holy Communion at the 9 a. m. mass next Sunday at St. Monica's Church, Dorchester st., South Boston, and will then go to the Hotel Manger for a Communion breakfast at 10:15 a. m.

This is the first winter activity of the club, and John R. Herbert, 23, chairman of the affair, extended an invitation to fathers of alumni and undergraduates to attend.

Refinery Tank Blast Kills One, Injures One

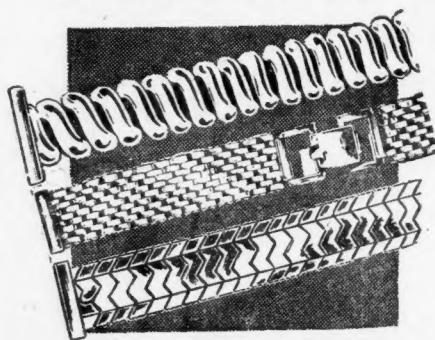

EL SEGUNDO, Cal., Dec. 5 (AP)—One man was killed and at least one injured today in a spectacular explosion which blew apart a 127,000-barrel gasoline storage tank at a Standard Oil Co. refinery here.

Harry Hafley, an executive of the company, said the tank, partially underground, contained 11,181 barrels of sulphur-cracked crude gasoline. The fact it was nearly empty was believed to have averted even greater disaster.

Donlevy's Divorce Decree Vacated

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5 (AP)—Movie Actor Brian Donlevy's petition to halt divorce proceedings of his estranged wife, Marjorie Lane, stood denied today by the California Supreme Court.

After 10 years of married life, Donlevy was given an interlocutory decree Feb. 11 in a divorce suit charging his wife with having an affair with a man in a New York hotel room.

In her cross action, Mrs. Donlevy claimed she was cheated of community property and all but denied custody of their child by threats of exposure of photographs in possession of Donlevy showing her in the hotel room with the New Yorker.

Mrs. Donlevy obtained a court order vacating the interlocutory decree granted Donlevy in Los Angeles and is now asking a larger share of the community property and custody of their four-year-old daughter in her cross action.

Police Run Down False Holdup Tip

Five police cruisers and a patrol wagon raced to Pier 3, the Boston & Albany dock in East Boston, today on a tip from an anonymous caller that an armored truck delivering a payroll to a freighter had been held up and robbed.

The cruisers met the armored truck just as it was coming off the pier. The driver said there had been no outward incident as he and his guard handed over $13,000 to Capt. A. C. Bauer of the freighter. The guard reported he had stowed the money in the ship's safe.

Maine Murder Victim's Car Seen Near N.Y.

WISCASSET, Me., Dec. 5 (AP) —Police probing the Thanksgiving eve slaying here of Rene Browne, 28, Rockland telephone worker, were told today a car answering the description of Browne's missing machine and occupied by a soldier and civilian had been seen on the Merritt Parkway near the Connecticut-New York state line Thanksgiving day.

Androscoggin County Sheriff Louis A. Gendron said Robert Godfrey, 20, Litchfield, and Merle Dutton, 20, Auburn, Lewiston garage workers noted the car as they traveled to New York.

Lincoln County Sheriff Herbert L. Finkham learned last night from New Jersey authorities a blondstained auto seat cover and some of Browne's clothing had been found in woods at Lambertville, N. J.

Browne was shot to death in the back while en route to Portland to spend the holiday with his mother and sister.

Browne's clothing found in New Jersey was in a suitcase which also contained telephone company pay stubs bearing his name and letters addressed to him.

3 Held in Maine On Check Charges

PORTLAND, Me., Dec. 5 (AP) —A man and two women were held in a total of $16,000 bail today for the January grand jury after pleading guilty in municipal court to charges of forging checks when Detective Captain Edward M. Kocklin said he had found three weeks' luxury spree.

Richard Lee Morse, 21, Biddeford, was held on four charges of uttering forged checks: Miss Ethel E. Slater, 20, Portland, on three charges and Miss Evelyn M. Prattantoni, 19, Portland, on one. Morse's bail was set at $8,000, Miss Slater's at $6,000, and Miss Prattantoni's at $2,000.

Morse told him, Kocklin said, that he had cashed at least 45 worthless checks totaling more than $1000 in Portland, Boston, Hartford, Ct., New York and Buffalo, N. Y.

Eyes of Dead Woman Flown To Hub Patient

The eyes of a woman who died today in Rhode Island Hospital, Providence, were removed in a swift operation and flown to the Boston eye bank, where this afternoon surgeons planned to use part of them in an effort to save the sight of another woman.

The Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary, home of the year-old eye bank, said it was the first time eyes had been flown to it and that they were at the hospital less than three hours after death. The quick transfer, authorities said, meant that the operation would have a better chance of success.

The woman died at 5:20 a. m. today, eyes removed at 6:10 and flown at the eye bank before 9 o'clock.

Surgeons planned to perform a corneal tissue graft upon a woman patient, who, the infirmary said, "is excited because she's been waiting for this operation for some time."

Corneal tissue is the front crystal of the eye. That part of the dead woman's eyes will be used to replace scar tissue in the eyes of the living patient.

The Rhode Island patient made a record for eyes. She is 45, is "badly needed," the infirmary reported.

The hospital said it was not policy to disclose identity of either donor or patient.

Authorities also declined to reveal the degree of blindness of the patient to be operated on today. They said only that bandages would be removed in 12 days.

War Leads French Boy to U. S. School

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Dec. 5 (AP)—Jacques Guinier, 17, of Vespreux, France, has small time in the class of Slippery Rock Teachers College as the son of an American firm whose girls he is to marry. The boy is the only French boy in the class of a flying cadet school during World War II. When the home school near his home, a long Guinier school, was a crew member, then, the Guiniers and moved to the Guinier of Lt. Don Blythe, Jr., a Slippery Rock.

The Blythe family began corresponding with Jacques and his family, later suggesting that he come to this country to attend school. This week, Jacques enrolled at Slippery Rock with Martha Blythe, the dead flier's sister.

Rabbi Korff Denies Army Plan Illegal

Plans for an army of 250,000 American war veterans to be recruited for duty in Palestine to preserve peace there were outlined today by Rabbi Baruch Korff in New York, where he went after first advancing the proposal in his home city here.

The young rabbi, who recently returned to this country after being jailed in France in connection with an alleged plot to drop Zionist pamphlets on London from an airplane, denied that his plan circumvents U. S. regulations prohibiting service by Americans in a foreign military force.

"However," he said, "this 'Washington brigade' of which I spoke is a brigade that I think should be sanctioned and financially supported by the UN—with, of course, full American approval."

Rabbi Korff made the statement following a State Dept. spokesman's reminder in Washington that U. S. passports are invalidated if the holders enter a foreign country for the purpose of serving with an armed force.

"At no time did I intend that these State Dept. regulations should be ignored or circumvented," Rabbi Korff explained.

"Such an army need not necessarily fight. It is my belief that the mere presence of such an American force would be enough to keep the peace so far as the Arabs are concerned."

6 Japs Trampled to Death At Fireworks Festival

CHICHIJU, Japan, Dec. 5 (AP)—Six Japanese were trampled to death and 10 others were injured seriously today in the crushing congestion of 32,000 persons leaving a park after a fireworks festival.

The Kyodo News Agency said the tragedy occurred when home-going crowds found their passage blocked by a train straddling the highway.

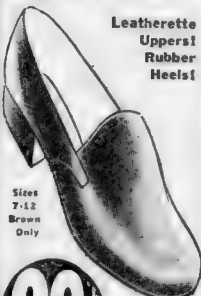

SUDAN IN UPRISING

KHARTOUM, Dec. 5 (AP)—Three persons were arrested today following a demonstration by 500 youths who shouted slogans against British "colonization" of the Sudan. The gathering was dispersed by police.

'Al' Tripp Dies In Manomet at 44

MANOMET, Dec. 5. Alston C. Tripp, 44, well known to hundreds of New England fishermen and hunters and operator of Congregational Church, officiating a boat livery at Manomet Point for the past 18 years, died suddenly today at his home.

He was a talented sculptor and several of his works now are in the Worcester Museum. He also taught art in Worcester until 1929 when he moved to Manomet and began operating his boat renting. He was active in Manomet affairs and headed the town's most recent Red Cross drive.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Eleanor Hoffman Tripp, and two brothers, Robert H. of Chatham, N. J., and Paul W. of Huntington, L. I.

Insane 21 Years, Killer Faces Trial

SPRINGFIELD, Dec. 5 (AP)—Richard A. Bearse, who has been confined as criminally insane for the last 21 years, may soon face trial in Hampden County Superior Court on a 21-year-old indictment charging him with the slaying of his mother.

Dr. Clifton T. Perkins, state commissioner of mental health, has signed a warrant declaring Bearse, now 47, to be sane, and it has been sent to the Superior Court at Springfield.

Officials at Bridgewater said they were ready to surrender the man to the Hampden County sheriff as soon as he arrives with a court order.

These developments culminate a year's efforts by the man's father, Fred A. Bearse, former Hampden County treasurer, to obtain the release of his son. Court officials said that Bearse would have to face trial on the old indictment.

Coast Guard Towing New Bedford Dragger

The disabled New Bedford dragger Mary Ann was under tow of the Coast Guard cutter Legare for her home port today. The Mary Ann was reported disabled yesterday 55 miles from Pollock Rip light vessel.

Meanwhile the Royal Canadian Mounted Police boat French still had not reported contacting the Gloucester trawler Hilda Casson, which lost her rudder 42 miles south of Halifax. The Coast Guard also reported the Boston trawler Lark had radioed that one of her crew had broken his ankle. The Lark is to land the injured man at Provincetown.

Siamese Twin
X-Rays Blurred

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 5 (AP)—The Speer babies, five-day-old Siamese twins, continued to thrive at Riley Hospital today, but efforts to take clear X-ray pictures of their connecting tissue failed.

Dr. Donald Casely, medical director of the Indiana University Medical Center, said attempts would be made again today to take clear pictures of the babies' brains.

The boys are joined by a bone three inches in diameter located at the normal "soft spots" of their heads. Physicians are seeking to determine whether a separation operation is possible.

Mass. Memorial Hospitals
Head to Leave for VA Post

Dr. Leverett S. Woodworth, superintendent of the Massachusetts Memorial Hospitals, will leave to take an appointment with the Veterans Administration in Louisville, Ky., Jerome Preston, hospitals president, announced today.

Dr. Charles A. Powell will become acting president until a new appointment is made by the trustees.

PREVENTIVE OUNCES

FRANKLIN, Pa., Dec. 5 (AP)—City Engineer John M. Snow says 500,000 gallons of water disappearing every week in this town of 9948 population may simply be going down the drain at night.

Snow said most of the customers have no meters and pay the same flat rate whether they use one gallon or a thousand. Word has been going around that leaving the tap running on cold nights is a good way to keep lines from freezing.

Of course, said Snow, there's a strong possibility of an underground leak.

Palace in Istanbul
Destroyed by Fire

ISTANBUL, Dec. 5 (AP)—Yeshilkoy Palace — residence of American Air Force personnel during the latter part of the war — was destroyed by fire today. Several persons escaped by leaping from windows.

Red Teacher on Hub School Listed in Report

The lone Boston school branded by Atty. Gen. Tom Clark as subversive was established two years ago, just a stone's throw from City Hall and within shouting distance of Faneuil Hall, the nation's cradle of liberty.
Samuel Adams School for Social Studies occupies two floors at 37 Province st.
At least one teacher is an avowed Communist. He is William Harrison of Roxbury, associate editor of the Boston Chronicle.
Prominent educators representing MIT, Harvard and Simmons colleges are on the board or the faculty of the Samuel Adams school and these, last night, rushed to its defense and said they had never known of or seen any practice or teaching identified with Communism.
They include Harrison L. Harley, professor of psychology at Simmons, and Dirk J. Struik, professor of mathematics at MIT, both members of the faculty. Prof. Albert E. Irving of Tufts, and Clinton Oliver, of Harvard.
Another member of the faculty is Eric A. Starbuck of Browne & Nichols School who in February, 1944, was elected chairman of the Cambridge Committee for Russia War Relief. He is a direct descendant of John and Priscilla Alden and a graduate of Harvard.
Prof. Struik said:
"The school tries to teach the principles of American democracy. I believe Atty. Gen. Clark is mistaken about its teachings."

R. I. Dad Flies to Aid 'Misled' Girl

A wealthy Providence attorney today was Chicago-bound to bring back his daughter, under federal indictment as the aftermath of her "revenge confession" in Chicago that she embezzled $13,000 to finance a romance which eventually backfired.

Claire Griffin, 19, a trusted employee of a big Providence market, gave herself up to Chicago police "to get even" with Edward Masterson, 30, her ex-convict boyfriend, when the latter married a Chicago nightclub blues singer.

She then led officers to the honeymoon apartment of Masterson and his redheaded bride.

Atty. William B. Griffin, one of Providence's best known lawyers, immediately announced he would do all in his power for his daughter, whom he termed "misguided."

He said on reaching Chicago he would seek to have her released on bail and would bring her back to Providence to face indictments charging violation of the national Stolen Property Act.

Declaring he was amazed and baffled to learn of his daughter's disappearance with Masterson, and of her alleged confession to embezzlement of $13,000 from the Providence market, Griffin said:

"I can't fathom it. I can't understand what would make her do it—if she did it.

"I never heard of Masterson before. We didn't know she was acquainted with any such man. I want to see that man—close up. It must have been a case where she was completely under the domination of this man, and could not have been responsible for what she did.

"Mrs. Griffin has been sick ever since Claire left home. The whole thing seems like an incredible nightmare. We gave Claire everything she wanted. There was no reason for her to do this."

FBI AID ASKED

As the federal indictments against the girl and the ex-convict were being returned, Providence police, represented by Chief of Detectives John Geery, went before a State grand jury now sitting in Providence, and asked for similar indictments. The grand jury will report back today.

Both Providence police and the U. S. Attorney's office notified the FBI in Chicago to detain the couple on warrants charging them with being fugitives from justice.

The girl, according to Chicago police, explained she had stolen $5000 previously, in small sums, from the store, on persuasion of Masterson, with whom, she said, she was "infatuated."

During their night club rounds, Claire told police, Masterson met Pernice Branford, 26-year-old blues singer. He wooed and won her, Claire said, and married her three weeks ago.

Brooklyn Shool Christmas Religious Carol Ban Probed

NEW YORK, Dec 5 (AP)—Mayor O'Dwyer has directed an investigation of an assistant superintendent of schools' order that pups of 23 Brooklyn schools may not observe the Christmas season in their classrooms with the traditional religious carols and symbols.

Asst. Supt. Isaac Bildeer ordered yesterday that such observances of the season as Santa Claus are approved, but that "Christmas carols with reference to the nativity may not be sung, nor may decorations include religious symbols of any faith" in schools under his charge.

Bildeer, meanwhile, explained he directed the principals of his schools to avoid religious expressions, including such carols as "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing."

For several years schools in his districts have celebrated both Christmas and a Jewish holiday, Chanukkah, which falls early in December, with the symbols of both faiths, he explained.

Bildeer, a member of the Jewish faith, said he felt this further emphasized differences of faith and therefore ordered religious observation of both dropped.

He said he suggested use of Santa Claus, holly and such, of "Jingle Bells" and anything else "not specifically religious," including the carol "About Peace on Earth". He approved Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" and Bret Harte's "How Santa Claus Came to Simpson's Bar," though he said the latter required elimination of some words.

School officials estimated that in the district under Bildeer's charge there are 30,000 pupils, about 20,000 of them Jewish.

Cowboy Heaven Dying Boy's Wish

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Dec. 5 (AP)—Five-year-old Rickey Rutherford isn't expected to live to see Santa Claus pay his official visit on Christmas Day, but he thinks it was grand of Santa to send a pair of cowboy boots to his hospital room.

Rickey, who idolizes cowboys, realizes he is dangerously sick and asked his grandmother, "Do you think they have lots of cowboys in heaven?"

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rutherford of Augusta, Mont., and grandson of Mrs. Frances Waters, Great Falls, Rickey is given one chance out of five to recover from nephrosis, a kidney disease. He said Santa couldn't see very well because, "he (Santa) said I was getting better and I know I'm not as good as I was when I came in here."

Another 'New Look' Paper As Printers Tieups Spread

By the Associated Press

The "New Look" in newspapers, born of printers' labor disputes with publishers, spread to Allentown, Pa., today.

The method of publishing editions through a typewriting and photo-engraving process was adopted by all six Chicago dailies Nov. 24 when 1500 members of the AFL International Typographical Union walked out. The Chicago papers have appeared in that dress since.

Other newspapers over the country have utilized it.

More than a year ago papers in Atlanta, Ga., and St. Petersburg, Fla., published photo-engraved editions by that process, continuing publication even after photo-engravers struck. The St. Petersburg paper used the photo-engraved process starting Nov. 20, 1945.

80 QUIT JOBS

Yesterday 80 members of ITU Local 134 in Allentown walked out their jobs and company executives immediately announced plans to continue publication with the Chicago process.

The Allentown typesetters struck after turning down a 16-23 per cent wage increase that carried with it a provision that the recently expired contract with the Allentown Call-Chronicle newspapers be continued.

The papers' executive editor, William D. Reimert, said the union violated the contract in declaring its termination Oct. 1 without giving written proposals of changes. Such proposals are a condition of termination, he said.

STRIKERS PAID BENEFITS
Clyde Major, president of the Allentown local, said the printers' rejection was predicated on the company's refusal to acknowledge conditions of employment posted Monday by the union in accordance with national policies of the ITU.

The striking Chicago compositors are to receive today their first strike benefits from the union's national fund. Married strikers will get $51.30 a week and unmarried $34.20.

New wage scales sought in Chicago call for $100 a week for day work and $106 for night and early tricks. The men had been earning $85.50 for 36½ hours of day work; $91 for the same hours of night work, and $91 for 30 hours of early work.

State Tax Chief, Billboards Flayed

Rights of local communities are being usurped by State Tax Com. Henry F. Long, the Outdoor Advertising Authority and a "few men in Boston," Charles W. Knowlton of Fairhaven declared today at the annual meeting of the Mass. Selectmen's Ass'n in Gardner Auditorium.

Knowlton, who was elected treasurer of the association, asserted towns might vote against erection of billboards in their communities but that the Outdoor Advertising Authority would allow the signs to be placed.

Knowlton urged support of bills to limit Long's power and to permit local licensing boards to determine billboard sites.

Cecil E. Brooks, of Great Barrington, was elected president, succeeding Charles F. Carroll of Rutland.

42 Defeat of UMT Major Issue Of Reds in U.S.

By HOWARD RUSHMORE

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Opposition to universal military training will be one of the five major propaganda issues of the Communist party during the coming year, it was learned today.

Acting on direct orders of the new Cominform, American Reds have been instructed to set up united fronts with any and all organizations opposed to preparedness, and to sabotage universal military training.

These orders were transmitted recently at a secret Communist meeting in New York.

REPORT OBTAINED

The program for opposition to preparedness was given by Jack Stachel, veteran Red leader who in the past has worked with the Russian secret police and who spent most of the war years in Mexico.

The N. Y. Journal-American has obtained a report on the conference which was given only a few top Communists at the close of the three-day meeting. In this report, Stachel said:

"Our party must pay special attention to the military mobilization of the country. We must work with educators, churchmen and others who are opposed to universal military training.

There exists the possibility of the broadest possible movement, which, if developed, will inevitably run counter to and weaken the whole imperialist program."

OTHER ISSUES

Stachel listed as other major Communist party issues during 1948:

Repeal of the Taft-Hartley law.

A third party.

Support of the Civil Rights Congress and all civil liberty programs in which the Communists have an interest.

Woman Slightly Hurt As Bus Hits Auto

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, FRIDAY, DEC. 5, 1942

'Bars Preferred to Homes'—Judge John J. Connelly of the Boston Juvenile Court reveals the pathetic plight of 6 per cent of the neglected or wayward children who come into his court can be traced to drinking mothers who prefer the barroom and chance pick-ups to their homes and children. "These mothers must wake up, accept the responsibilities of motherhood by getting out of barrooms before their children are lost," he says. A bill which would forbid women to frequent Massachusetts bars has been filed with the Legislature.

Out in the Cold—Dorothy McLennon, 17, and her brothers, Walter 2, and William, 10, were among the many persons forced to flee their homes when a three-alarm blaze roared through a near-by woodworking plant in Lawrence st., Charlestown, and threatened to spread to dwellings in Austin and Benedict sts. Even the Power Trust Should Laugh

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, FRIDAY, DEC. 5, 1947

BECAUSE THE Massachusetts Legislature failed to give its Special Waterways Commission enough money to survey the adequacy of developed water power in the Commonwealth, the Commission dug up a 1918 report on the subject.

That is the Commission's own bland admission.

The people of Massachusetts expected an inspiring pattern of progress.

Instead, they got a dusty antique. It was like ordering a 1948 automobile and having the dealer deliver a World War I model.

Even the power trust must be laughing. A lot has happened since 1918, including a goodly number of scientific developments.

So this 29-year-old report ought to be as helpful to Senators and Representatives as one of Woodrow Wilson's addresses on the permanence of the League of Nations.

NO WONDER a minority of the Commission's members rebelled and wrote its own report, which said:

"The majority report indicates an entirely closed mind with respect to the several proposals before it having to do with flood control, hydroelectric development and navigation on certain waterways of the Commonwealth.

"We cannot subscribe to blind antagonism which goes back as far as 1918—30 years ago—to dig up reports in alleged substantiation of a do-nothing attitude. This is 1947, and we should view things accordingly.

"The citizens of Massachusetts are entitled to have every possibility for development of the natural resources of the State thoroughly explored.

"Because water power is one of the few natural resources with which Massachusetts has been endowed, every effort should be made to squeeze the last bit of electricity from the streams passing through the Commonwealth.

"Only within the last few weeks has the Holyoke Municipal Electric Light Department sought authorization from the Federal Power Commission for further development of the Connecticut river at Holyoke.

"It proposes to have an initial hydroelectric capacity of 44,000 kilowatts and an ultimate development of 88,000.

"At present the river at that point is being used to develop only 10,540 kilowatts by the Holyoke Water Power Company.

"While it is the contention of the major power companies serving the area that it is cheaper to make electricity through the use of steam created by the burning of coal or oil, it still cannot be denied that scores of factories in Massachusetts already are saving considerable sums of money each year by employing small hydroelectric plants on adjacent streams. In some years, these factories do not have to buy any outside power, nor do they require coal or oil for the making of electricity.

"Now that New England is faced with the rationing of fuel oil—and of gasoline because refineries and transportation facilities are so occupied in handling the tremendous demand for fuel oil—it is particularly appropriate for Massachusetts, through its Legislature, to re-examine its hydroelectric opportunities and to encourage all possible further development."

ALL THE MEMBERS of the Special Re-cess Commission should study this minority report. They will find it a lot more enlightening and accurate than the moth-eaten, old document which has been resurrected in the Commission's name.

What about the dams which were built as far back as the middle of the last century?

Surely, the Commission does not think that they are "adequate."

Also, what about the fact that light and power rates in many of our cities and towns are among the highest in the nation?

Does the Commission believe they should be tolerated forever?

We don't know what the Commission intends to do with its report after the Legislature convenes, but we do not recommend its use by Governors, Senators and Representatives who want to continue in public office.

(MEN ARE INCLINED to view that thing called love with more pessimism than women. If a woman hasn't had her heart broken at least twice she thinks she hasn't lived. And while she is mourning a lost love, hope springs eternal in her heart that there is another love just around the corner. That's one of the reasons women live longer.)

She will, as usual, use the Chinese system of horse selection. This is something like the hatpin system, only you don't need a hatpin.

THE FINAL DECISION as to the purchase of an automobile rests with the lady of the house. That's what most auto salesmen claim and they should know. Because the little lady allegedly has the final decision some auto designers have engaged women experts to suggest designs and colors having the strongest feminine appeal. It is my belief the final decision as to the purchase of an automobile should rest with an impartial consulting mechanic.

first-born. We would like you to suggest a name. A—Your request is extremely flattering. I have noticed many successful people have alliterative names that sound well and are easy to remember. As your surname is Bell I suggest if a son is born you name him Barry, Barrett, Bartholomew, Beaumont, or Bruce. If it is a girl choose between Barbara, Bernadette, Beth, Babette and Brenda.

ASIDES—Of the purebred dogs, cocker spaniels have the best longevity record. . . Charles Bidwell, of Los Angeles, says he has seen the film "Gone With the Wind" 86 times. . . It has been generally conceded the Biblical reference to the "Voice of the Turtle" means the turtle dove. But maybe not. A man of science says during the spring mating season the turtle, ordinarily silent, makes "a hoarse sound."

AMONG THE MARRIED—After an argument as to which was the harder job, being a bus conductor or doing housework, a British husband and wife switched jobs. The husband, who claimed housework was easier, soon changed his mind. He said: "Housework is not only hard, it's depressing." His wife walked out on him. And so they were divorced. So, mister, if your wife says she has the harder job, don't argue. Agree with her or she may talk you into switching jobs.

OVER THERE—A man stole the handbag of Mrs. Winifred Gowan, a London mannequin. Winifred was wearing a "new look" outfit which permits a woman to take a step of only nine inches. But she was resourceful. She pulled her lengthy skirt up over her knees, giving her the freedom of action to run. She gave chase to the crook and caught him. When told of the incident Winifred's husband, Garry Gowan, a dance and band vocalist, said:

"That's just like my wife, resourceful, brave and beautiful."

GET IT RIGHT—"For a quarter of a mile a greyhound can run faster than any horse that ever lived." So states a sportsman. That's not right. The quarter-mile U.S.A. greyhound record held by Jolly Irishman is 24.3 seconds. The thoroughbred Big Racket ran a quarter of a mile in 20.4-5 seconds on a circular course. Ordinary claiming class horses often run the first quarter-mile of sprints in 22.2-5 seconds.

"Where ARE you ordering our drinking water from lately? It tastes sort of fishy . . ."

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK, Dec. 5—Wednesday afternoon, about dusk, a little before 5, I was passing the Mirror Building and three muggs were blocking the entrance on the sidewalk there, standing and talking, and people couldn't get in or out.

Those things burn you and you would think they would have the brains not to block the way, so I probably gave this little guy a glare. A little guy in a yellow coat, a little blue-jaw Broadway type on his shoulders.

He gave me a glare back and then he let out a yell. "Hey," I hollered, "Sammy Taub!" followed by "What do you know?" "Where you been?" "Do you ever see Whitey?"

IN THOSE DAYS, you know, the old days, Sammy was a shorthand man and a sort of a secretary for Bat Masterson, the old Dodge City marshal, or sheriff, who came on to write fights for the Morning Telegraph in the cabaret across from where Madison Square Garden is now.

On the spot where Dempsey had that big restaurant on the corner of Fifth and Eighth ave, was the old Morning Telegraph and they say the plant really was a no-kidding barn in the horse-car days when the horse-power boarded in the stalls at the back.

Long afterward, when Joe Moore bought it and blew a chunk there in the twenties, Gene Fowler was the managing editor and he used to draw a deep breath and close his eyes and say: "Ah, that old atmosphere, just the right atmosphere for a horse-power."

I LEAVE IT to Sammy Taub or Jim McGuinness or Louella Parsons—she was there, too, in those days—if it didn't still have that Churchill Downs bouquet. Ed Bradley used to say it was good for you. Got ammonia in it. Make you live a long time. Bradley hit 84.

Fowler had the Telegraph some years after Bat Masterson and Ren Wolf and Baird Leonard, who did that beautiful verse for the old Life and sometimes covered the Giants.

When Fowler had the Morning Telegraph he hired all the guys around town who figured they had had a raise years ago. If old Ochs and Oggie Reid wouldn't raise deserving journalists, big-hearted Gene Fowler would, with Joe Moore's money.

ONE NIGHT there was a mushy spot in the season at the Garden. The main event was to be a couple of muscle-bound middleweights, and Gene decided to call it the battle of the aeon and clown it up.

We didn't have any city editor. We didn't even have any assignment book. Just pick your own story. Gene never knew what he had for his paper until they dropped it on his desk. One day everybody covered one bum's training. Next day everybody covered the other bum. Finally, Friday morning, Gene ran a big box listing the great lineup gathered from the ends of the earth to cover the battle of the aeon. Lardner, MacArthur, Hecht, Jim Harrison, Vidmer and so forth. Then it said: "And Gene Fowler, the greatest editor since Brisbane was in his prime, will tell our readers what this contest means to posterity."

He liked to rib Brisbane by putting him in the past tense. (I think A. B. fired him once.)

SAMMY TAUB somehow got mixed up with Bat Masterson in Bat's last days. The Lewis boys, who owned the Telegraph then, brought Bat on to Broadway because he was famous as a fearless frontier sheriff.

I think he must have been flaking off when I used to see him a little around the fight business toward the end of his career because they used to say he was such a hell of a fight writer, but to me, frankly, he had no class. Just abusive.

From being Bat's caddy, little Sammy graduated into the Morning Telegraph's fight man and, when they had room enough, he could do you a story like a moving picture with those Arabian chicken-tracks of his.

Sammy used to say: "I score a fight verbalism. When the rest of you bums fall behind on the blow-by-blow you get across lots how they exchanged furious volleys of lefts and rights to the head and body."

DAN MORGAN came up. He says he is now in his second century but he still spurs and bobs and weaves, even sitting down. He could still give you the back of his hand.

It turned out they were going up to Kingsbridge Hospital to do a show for the wounded. Most of the wounded weren't even born when I am talking about. Why don't they get George Washington?

Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 5 (INS). — "Blackmail," one of Director Alfred Hitchcock's hits in England, has been bought by Charles Bennett, who wrote it in 1929. Charlie will make the picture in Hollywood and this time he'll not only do the adaptation, but will produce and direct it, with Vincent Price in the starring role.

Maybe you remember the plot of this typical Hitchcock thriller? The action involves a chase through the British museum.

I WAS wondering what had happened to Vincent Price when I saw "Angel Street"—he was very good in the role which he created on the New York stage and which Gregory Peck is now playing. Vincent didn't put as much menace into the part as Peck does and his anger never was as frightening, but he was more of a smoothie.

LIZ SCOTT, heretofore Hal Wallis' sole femme star, is about to have some competition. Just as Liz was discovered by Hal, so were the two unknowns who have just been put under contract by him with the idea of giving them the same quick build-up he gave Liz.

One is a small brunette French girl named Susan Dalbert whom he interviewed in Paris last summer. The other is a statuesque blonde, Rita Colton, who was spotted by a talent scout, believe it or not, on a 5th ave. bus. She's 19 and hasn't had five minutes' acting experience.

Independent producers who don't develop their own stars are out of luck, because established headliners are kept busy on their own lots right up to the time old rockin' chair gets 'em.

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. This coming Sabbath will be the first time Sunday has fallen on Dec. 7 in six years. There was a Sunday, Dec. 7, back in 1941.

That Sunday started out as a very ordinary Dec. 7 for most of us. From a newspaper city desk standpoint it was one of the dullest Sundays on record. There seemed to be nothing worth printing—at least in New York, where I was working. The only interesting story in a couple of weeks had petered out the night before.

This was the story of Tommy Manville's latest matrimonial crackup. The asbestos heir, with his customary dignity and restraint, had strapped a six-shooter on his hip and accompanied his unloving missus to the station to make good and certain she got on the train for Reno.

I forget which number wife she was, because in those days it was hard to keep count. All I recall is that she photographed pretty good, which was about all Mr. Manville seemingly desired in a helpmate, and a very fetching picture as she posed for the big farewell scene in the station. She had undoubtedly practiced smiling through her tears—and Mr. Manville looked very rugged and manly as he stood there all rodded up, as befitted a husband about to be bereft.

BUT MRS. MANVILLE was well on her way to Reno this Dec. 7, 1941—and there was no other news. The city editor was getting that desperate, hungry look that city editors get on such days. Finally, when all seemed blackest, one of the rewrite men had an inspiration. Going up to the city desk, he said:

"Look, Nick, I got an idea for

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: There have been numerous jokes about Atwater Kent's parties, but let me say right here, there is no one in Hollywood who has more friends. He is one of the kindest, most generous, and one of the most charitable.

It isn't often that the people he entertains have a chance to show him how much they appreciate him, but that chance came Wednesday on his birthday. Margaret Etinger and Verberna Hebbard gave him a luncheon at the Beverly Hills Hotel. Among his gifts were 30 bow ties. He's as famous as Frankie Sinatra for wearing them.

In the evening, the Harry Lachmans gave him a beautiful party. A sore throat kept me from attending, but one of my scouts was there and gave me a report. The Brian Ahernes were there. Grace Allen almost stole the show in an Orry Kelly dress. Linda Darnell, Ann Sothern, the Ray Millands, Sir Charles Mendel, were just a few of those who wished Attie a happy birthday. May I wish him one now, belated though it is.

IF YOU are a fan of "One Man's Family" on the air, you will be greatly interested to hear that Michael Raffeto, who has played Paul all that time, has been nabbed by Charlie Brackett and Billy Wilder. He plays the father role of the Congressman in "A Foreign Affair."

My advice to Charlie and Billy is to announce in the screen that it is Raffeto who plays Paul. Many people would like to know it.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD: collected at random: Loretta Young was well enough to sail today from England. Before she left, the lovely Duchess of Kent paid her a visit at the hospital.

By Louella O. Parsons

Sam Jaffe's pretty daughter, Naomi, is causing Kurt Kruger's heart to beat faster. They were again at the Somerset House at a table just for two.

Pamela Blake, former RKO actress, who married Mike Stokely, radio announcer, welcomed a baby girl.

Lilli Palmer is in St. Moritz and will spend Christmas in Switzerland, so chance that she and Rex Harrison will get back to Hollywood for the holidays. Jennifer Jones is at the same hotel, and the two had dinner together.

Rosalind Russell's mother is here for the holidays. She met Rod's son, Lance Brinson, for the first time. He is her 12th grandson.

Ida Lupino gets a chance to meet her future mother-in-law, Mrs. William T. Young, Sr., who arrives in town Saturday to visit Collier Young, Ida's fiancé.

Rosalind Courtwright, pretty wife of Hernando Courtwright, is certainly getting on with her singing career. She goes to Mexico as the leading attraction at Ciro's, the A. C. Blumenthal night club. She follows Lucienne Boyer. Rosalind also has a date at the St. Regis hotel. Looks like she won't be home for Christmas.

Tyrone Power was welcomed home by Charlie Morrison at a stag party in the Champagne room, which all of our handi-sonest stars attended. Reading from left to right, or right to left, were Tyrone Power, Cary Grant, Jimmy Stewart, Robert Taylor, Clark Gable, Gary Cooper and 75 others. What a waste of man power!

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

By George Dixon

We are like a man with a pocketful of gold dollars strolling up a blind alley without a gun.

ON FIVE separate occasions within the past week or so, Secretary of Commerce W. Averell Harriman has been summoned before the joint congressional committee on appropriations to be questioned about our economic condition.

The other day a reporter got the secretary's head public relations man aside and asked, kiddingly:

"What does Harriman do when he isn't up here?"

"Oh," replied the press agent, blandly. "He goes back to his office and prepares more statements so he'll be ready when he is called again."

My Boston

By Alan Frazer

FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE THE JAPS blasted our fleet at Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7 falls on a Sunday.

As usual, members of the Disabled American Veterans will visit their comrades in the hospitals. Because it is Sunday, Mattapan Post 1626, VFW, has arranged for Bishop John J. Wright to celebrate a mass, which many veterans will attend, at St. Angela's Church at 11:30 . . . At 11:30 a. m. (Boston time), on Dec. 7, 1941, day was breaking in the Pacific. Three thousand Americans were never to see that day's sunset.

SIX YEARS AGO today (Dec. 5), the order was flashed from Tokyo, putting the fleet on battle status . . . The fleet had left Yokohama on Nov. 14, had reached striking position by a circuitous loop to the north . . . U. S. Navy radio sleuths were listening to the familiar touch of Jap fleet radio operators. But those operators had been removed from the Jap ships, sent to the fishing fleet off the Marianas to fill the air with decoy signals from a position thousands of miles from the venomous carriers that were slicing their devious way toward Hawaii . . . With that Sunday sunrise, writing of the perilous page of history began. And so, on this Sunday: "Eternal rest grant unto them, O Lord . . . And may perpetual light shine upon them."

A READER wants to know why Boston & Maine commuters have to stand, while pass-holders fill many of the seats. And adds that one woman, who rides on a pass, regularly takes a seat in the smoker, never smokes . . . Thinking of the plans of Gustav Wally, the Swedish producer, to stage "Oklahoma!" in Stockholm, we are wondering what "Surrey with the Fringe on Top" sounds like in Swedish . . . Beverly Shearer, only 19, plays Sybil Van Dare and Nina (the lead) interchangeably in "The Firefly" at the Opera House. She originally joined the show at Baltimore. First read the lines on a Thursday, memorized them on Friday, played Sybil on Saturday afternoon, and Nina on Saturday night. A tiny girl with a big brain under her red-hair . . . Ruby Fog's in New York was heavily damaged by fire and water early Wednesday . . . We hear that Harry Agganis, Lynn Classical great at football, baseball and basketball, is now wrestling—with collegiate and professional offers. For the latter, he's thinking in terms of a $30,000 bonus to sign, so they say.

CELEBRITIES who have dropped in to watch Dorchester's great soft-shoet, Ray Bolger, at the Oval Room this week: Gertrude Lawrence, Cornelia Otis Skinner, Raymond Massey ("Abe Lincoln in Illinois," etc., etc.) . . . The Masses will pick up the children at a Boston school, spend Christmas season at their 25-room house, bought last July in Ipswich . . . Gertrude's visit was returned by Gwen Holbert, Ray's missus, by seeing "Tonight at 8:30" at the Shubert . . . Harry Sullivan, at the RKO Boston, both on screen and stage, really has three names like that: his first is Patrick . . . Win Brooks' short story about a boy and girl on a Cape Cod beach, "Shadow on the Heart," (Saturday Evening Post, July 13, 1946), has been bought by the movies . . . The other gifted Boston writer, Eleanor Early, is at the Ritz Carlton for a few days. She will autograph her new book, "New Orleans Holiday," at the Personal Bookshop in Wellesley (her old home), tomorrow.

STREET NAMES are intriguing. Washington and Manhattan probably have the most systematic. East Boston has the most imaginative . . . There's the Revolutionary battle section: Hingham, Scituate, Princeton, Lexington, Trenton Monmouth. The Revolutionary generals: Marion, Brooks, Putnam, Prescott, Shelby. The birds: Eagle, Falcon, Condor. The foreign-sounding names, starting from the great East Boston docks: Liverpool, London, Havre, Paris, Bremen, Orleans, Frankfurt, Geneva, Venice. The literary giants: Swift, Chaucer, Byron, Wordsworth, Addison, Horace, Homer, Cowper, Coleridge, Moore, Scott . . . Personally, we like these East Boston names: Neptune, Trident.

ELEVEN training officers of the Veterans Administration were shifted this week from one city to another in this immediate area in a surprise shuffle, which has affected morale. Mayor Lawrence of Medford wants Simon W. Touchette returned there . . . Meanwhile, owing to a drastic cut in this department, ordered in October by Washington, supervision of non-disabled vets attending colleges has gone by the board . . . Atty. Gen. Barnes rendered an opinion that non-veteran lawyers are "soldiers" and "sailors" and therefore entitled to the $2000 exemption granted by state law to former "soldiers and sailors" with certain disabilities. The opinion was obtained by the State Veterans' Services department, in behalf of an ex-WAC who was refused the exemption by her local assessor . . . Because the opinion was binding on Tax Commissioner Long, the American Legion has filed a bill to clarify the wording of the law. And the ex-WAC will carry her appeal to the state Supreme Court, if necessary.

IF YOU would like to help remember hospitalized veterans on Christmas, you might attend tomorrow night's variety show of the VFW Auxiliary at Public Latin School, Louis Pasteur ave. . . Blind Mike Sachs, whom we wrote up recently when he played the Old Howard, is gaining recognition. Crystal-Tone records of Boston is recording his comedy routine at Washington. Rep. Rogers Asks Ban on Fuel Exports

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—A ban on the export of coal and petroleum products and on sale of U. S. tankers abroad until fuel shortages in this country are ended was proposed in Congress today.

New England House members met meanwhile to study the critical situation in their area.

Rep. Rogers (R.) of Massachusetts requested in one resolution that the export of coal, gasoline, fuel oil and other petroleum products to foreign countries be prohibited until these products are available in necessary quantities to the people of the United States.

A second resolution by Mrs. Rogers would bar the Maritime Commission from selling tankers to foreign countries or companies.

Speaker Martin (R.) of Massachusetts held a preliminary meeting this morning with all House members from New England "to clear up the great confusion of the conflicting stories and information."

John Gulevarian and Hag Kalunian, co-owners, said the jewelry was being finished for the S. Rappaport Co. of Attleboro, Mass.

His Boy Car Victim After He Kills Girl

WABBERS FALLS, Okla., Dec. 5 (AP)—Just 16 days ago a 9-year-old girl stepped from behind a school bus to death under the wheels of a pickup truck driven by farmer James B. Sheffield.

Yesterday, Sheffield's little boy, 2-year-old Robert Lewis, was playing in a ditch beside his home. The child darted into the road just as the family doctor, Lyttleton M. Thomas, drove up in his car. The little boy ran in front of the machine and was killed. The state highway patrol absolved both drivers.

HIS-PRINT

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5 (AP)—Superior Judge Franklin A. Griffin has ruled a thumbprint in lipstick on a will has no legal force.

His ruling cleared title to a house valued at about $5500 left by Guy C. Wren, metallurgical engineer. The property goes to his sister, Mrs. Dollie K. Goss, of Oakland, Cal.

Mrs. Grace Donoghue testified she supplied the lipstick for Wren on his deathbed to make the imprint on the document with the intention of transferring the property to her daughter, Mrs. Alice Hughes.

Urges 1-Yr. Moratorium On Wage, Price Boosts

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (AP)—One-year moratoriums, on wage and price increases were urged before the National Ass'n of Manufacturers today by Lewis H. Brown, chairman of the board of the Johns-Manville Corp.

The moratoriums were part of a program he offered to "keep inflationary pressures under control."

United Fight On Inflation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—The Senate Republican policy committee decided today to attempt to work out with House members a GOP anti-inflation program which may call for voluntary allocation of scarce cost of living items.

Chairman Taft (R.) of Ohio told a news conference that a meeting of Senate and House leaders would be held next week to determine whether two or three anti-inflation measures could be pushed to final passage in the special session of Congress.

He listed measures to extend export controls, regulate trading on the grain exchanges and to curb installment buying in this category.

He said an allocation bill would have to contain a clause exempting participating businesses from the anti-trust act.

The question of whether such legislation would carry authority for the government to seek price-cutting agreements was left open, Taft said.

Many Notables At Doyle Rites

Officials of the city, state and nation and dignitaries of the American Legion attended funeral services today for William J. Doyle of Malden, known as the "King Maker" for his influence in selecting Legion leaders.

Rev. Edward J. Carney of Lawrence celebrated the high mass of requiem at Sacred Heart Church, Malden. Every seat was filled and a throng stood outside.

Members of Malden Post-American Legion, served as an honor guard at the church and in the cortege to Forestdale Cemetery.

Among the mourners were Navy Sec. John L. Sullivan, Federal Judge Arthur D. Healey, Dist. Atty. William J. Foley, Boston Police Comr. Thomas F. Sullivan, Public Safety Comr. John F. Stokes, Mayor Charles F. Jeff Sullivan of Worcester, Superior Court Judge Francis J. Good, and Suffolk Superior Court Clerk Thomas Dorgan.

American Legion National Com. James F. O'Neill of Manchester, N. H., headed the AL delegation, which included former National Com. Daniel J. Doherty of Woburn and Lynn Stambaugh of Albany, N. Y.

Lynn Yeggs Miss $2000 Payroll

Bungling safe breakers missed a $2400 payroll at the Boyd potato chip plant, Boston st., Lynn, early today, then escaped with $25 the three girls had collected for a Christmas party.

The cracksmen, who left mute evidence they had begun to work at 11:02 last night, also fed themselves heartily on potato chips, peanuts and pickles, with pop to wash down the goodies.

Police surrounded the plant after Patrolman James Patrick found a door open shortly before 3 a. m. and rushed for reinforcements. When the officers rushed the place the intruders were gone. An electric clock cord had been pulled from its socket at 11:02 p. m., and an electric drill, taken from a tool chest at the plant, had been connected.

Combination locks had been drilled from two safes, including the one that held the payroll, but the cracksmen had been unable to open either.

STRIKING BARMEN RETURN

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (AP)—The practiced hands of 1500 bartenders returned to beer taps in some 800 bars and taverns in Manhattan last night after a three-day wage dispute, during which tavern owners donned white aprons and served thirsty customers.

Jane Wyman in - Rift With Reagan

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 5 (INS)—
In my many years as a chronicler of doings in Hollywood, I have never been sorer than I am right now to report Jane Wyman and
ing point.

Jane went to New York to think things over on a marital vacation.
But, believe me, it was no vacation, because after she got there she was afraid to go anywhere for fear of being questioned. She has been sitting in her hotel room, waiting to get a reservation to come home.

Ronnie refuses to take the parting from Jane seriously, believing that in 50 years they will still be together.

Jane isn't that optimistic. When I talked to her today, she was as sorry as she could be that their married life had reached the point where they were unable to agree.

Ronnie thinks Jane is tired out.
She has worked very hard and she wasn't well after the loss of an expected baby. He believes that when she comes home and has a chance to think it over, everything will be all right.

ings bank, but you MUST back

3 Countries In Agreement On Nazi Assets

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—The U. S., Canada and The Netherlands have agreed on a system to settle conflicting claims to $500,000,000 in Nazi assets in 18 countries, the State Dept. announced today.

The agreement, which must be approved by Congress, pledges each government to accept the verdict of a conciliator in all such arguments.

Representatives of seven allied countries negotiated the agreement after 18 months of discussion, Acting State Sec. Robert Lovett said.

SLAVS REFUSE

State Dept. officials said Yugoslavia refused to sign the accord because that country disagreed with the definition of Nazi assets. Belgium has promised to sign Jan. 3, and these officials said they hope Britain and France, the other two negotiating nations, will sign later.

Specifically exempted from the agreement are claims involving the $30,000,000 general airline and film corporation in New York. This asset has been seized by the American property custodian pending agreement with Switzerland over its ultimate disposition.

In addition to the seven countries which negotiated it, the accord is open to 11 other European countries which are members of the Inter-Allied Reparations Agency, plus neutrals and South American countries.

ELIMINATE DELAYS

Officials said the agreement should eliminate the lengthy delays and legal wrangles over enemy assets which followed World War I. Some World War I cases still are pending before the courts.

Russia is not a member of the Inter-Allied Agency on Reparations and thus did not participate in the talks although it is eligible to join in the agreement.

Assets in Austria, one of the main disputes holding up an Austrian peace treaty, are not covered because the accord involves only Nazi assets in Allied, neutral and South American countries.

Chief Boutillier Warns Of Yule Fire Dangers

Fire Chief Napoleon Boutillier warned today against use of inflammable materials in Yuletide decorations and said the fire dept. will check closely on fire prevention measures.

He demanded that a paid detail of uniformed firemen be present when public observances of Christmas are held, their pay to be provided by the sponsors, and that only flame-proof artificial trees be used in hospitals, schools, convalescent homes and homes for the aged.

SPRAY THAT FLY

Here's good news for residents of the North Shore—the Legislature may do something about those pesky green-head flies.

Under terms of a bill recommended by a joint board appointed to study the problem, $6000 would be appropriated to wipe out the pests in Essex county with a solution sprayed from the air over salt water marshes.

The solution contains DDT, xylene, fuel oil and aluminum stearate.

Physical Tests For Pupils Urged

School children in Massachusetts would be given more thorough physical checkups under a bill proposed to the legislature today by the state dept. of public health.

The department said its bill was intended to improve the standards of the health examination of school children by elimination of the annual compulsory physical examination and substitution of more thorough examinations at intervals set by regulations of the department.

"Children would receive complete physical examinations about four times during their school careers, or at more frequent intervals for working certificates, absenteeism due to illness, transfers between schools, participation in competitive sports, or for referrals by school nurse or teacher," the department explained.

DEYO VISITS HERO
LAWRENCE, Dec. 5.—For a half hour R. Adm. Morton L. Deyo held up the dedication service of the new armory here so he could pay a visit to Lawrence's thrice-wounded Pacific war hero, James Dowd.
Hearing of the veteran, now invalided with paralysis of the legs—he lives nearby in a house specially built for him by the people of Lawrence—the commandant of the First Naval District left the dinner table and dropped in for an informal chat.
The chat lasted 30 minutes, and more than 400 naval reservists and guests had to await the Admiral's return for completion of the dedication service.

335 New Homes For Vets Planned
Mayor Curley announced an apartment house project costing $3,000,000 and providing 335 homes for veterans will be constructed on 400,000 square feet of land off Washington st., Brighton, next to St. Gabriel's Monastery.
The mayor said the site, owned by the Massachusetts Memorial Hospitals Ass'n and one of the last big farms still under cultivation inside the city limits, will be taken by eminent domain.
He said it was a choice location and the project will increase in value during the next 10 years.

Everett Mother Held in Fur Theft

A 29-year-old Everett mother of three small children was held by police today as a suspect in the theft of four coats, valued at $1800, from a Boston furrier.

The young mother was taken in custody after Boston detectives, acting on an anonymous tip, visited her home with Everett officers and found four coats, one of which was identified positively as a coat which had disappeared from the furrier's shop last Tuesday.

The woman, maintaining her innocence under questioning, first admitted she had only two coats, which she purchased from a man, she could not identify for a total of $125. But officers, searching her home, found the other two coats. Police said a complaint would be sought in court.

Top Body-Smooth Lotion

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE, Beauty and Fashion Editor

PEOPLE ARE WONDERFUL and we love people. That's why life is so interesting... because people make it so. And women... bless them... make the life of a beauty editor never a dull moment. Of course, we wouldn't have it otherwise. And don't get us wrong... we love people! You know, the kind with red cupsoles!

Have you ever stopped to wonder what MAKES a beauty item reach heights of distinction and acclaim... what makes it a talked-about, must-have-without-it-my-dear-necessity? Then, let me recite this little incident to you!

Several weeks ago a friend of ours solicited information (and she couldn't have come to a more informed person) about an exquisite... oh, it must be an exquisite... beauty preparation that would soften and smooth the skin of her body. She wanted a silky body lotion.

SHE LOVED THE LOTION

"She," of course, is a beauty-loving, fashion-conscious gal who not only watches her calories, her prized figure, her attractive facial appeal... but the condition of her body skin as well. She is one of Boston's loveliest-looking women.

Well, we made our suggestion of a splendid, actually an incomparable, body-smooth lotion... product of a famous name in the beauty world... that would make skin dryness, harshness, roughness give way to softness when applied after the bath... or any time when skin needed soothing. And our friend took our recommendation and bought the lotion and used it.

She loved it so... she communicated its beauty importance to her friends... who, in turn, talked about it to their friends. The other day, a woman telephoned us and told us of the round-robin method by which she obtained information of this "simply wonderful, perfectly exquisite body lotion"... but, she couldn't remember the name and would ask tell her what ours was and where she could purchase it, but quickly.

ALL CLASSES USE IT

Naturally, we told her what she wanted to know. By the point we make... mentioning this item today is this. We repeated the ramifications of the episode to one of our assistants yesterday.

"Oh, that!" she exclaimed, "Why a friend of mine couldn't live without it. She uses it regularly... says it is the most wonderful body smooth lotion she's ever used... and she uses it during the winter, too, when her skin gets chapped or parched."

See what we mean! That's how a beauty editor learns that a beauty item she thinks is confined to the appreciation and use of the so-called upper strata is a commonplace necessity of girls in business as she is.

For the name of this famous body smooth lotion (it only costs $1.50) phone the Beauty Dept., Liberty 2-4000, any day except Sunday, or write to me, care of the Boston American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

THERE'S A whole host of women who would give more than a penny for the glorious-looking body of Penny Edwards... a glamor gal of the celluloids who looks it and you know why! He's Lonely Young Man

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am a young fellow of 26. I am steadily employed and always have been. I dress well at all times. I like all types of sports, movies, stage shows and a variety of other things.

But I can't seem to get acquainted with any nice young woman of my own age, and I do much want to do so as I am very lonely and don't like to go out alone. Could you possibly give me any ideas as to what steps I could take to make friends, such as clubs, etc. Ordinarily, I would not write to a stranger about a question like this, but I am at a point now where I need some good advice, as I'm just about at my wit's end. "Disgusted."

Dear "Disgusted": Do you know what is going to happen when readers of this column see your letter? I'll tell you. I'm going to get a barrage of letters from girls who want to meet you. And I am going to have to tell those girls that I do not believe in introducing people through the mails.

I mention this in order to show you that there are a great many nice girls in every community who are eager to meet young men of your type, so that it really shouldn't be hard for you to find congenial companions of the other sex.

You ask about clubs where you might meet such companions. If you are interested in some sort of hobby, such as photography, stamp collecting, or the like, there are many hobby clubs from which you might select one to join.

Shirtwaist Dress Survives Changes

By EILEEN CALLAHAN

THE SHIRTWAIST DRESS has extraordinary powers of survival. It weathers every fashion storm; in fact, seems refreshed by the whirlwinds, and turns up looking twice as lovely as ever it looked before the storm clouds engulfed it.

Perhaps its invulnerability can be laid to its simplicity—things that are simple and suitable and basic are always in demand. Or perhaps its long livedness can be attributed to the really remarkable ability of the shirtwaist dress to adapt itself to changing modes without losing its identity.

The new-line shirtwaist dress designed by Hattie Carnegie and sketched today proves the point. It is still the beloved shirtwaist dress, but it is also an example of fashion's latest leanings. Made of black silk, it is cut on full lines. The skirt is completely and deeply pleated. The blousy bodice opens down the front and is fastened underneath with square rhinestone buttons. The midriff section is made of red silk, tiny pleated and corseleted. There is a small turnover collar. The long full sleeves are gathered into tight cuffs.

Mincemeat Tarts Make Good Companions for Tea

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

BUDGET-WISE HOMEMAKERS are serving mincemeat desserts often these days because they are hearty, and the prices of all dried fruits are lower. While most of us like the idea of homemade mincemeat, it's only a simplified recipe that can compete with the ready-made mincemeat found in packaged or glassed form today.

Here is a recipe that seems to fill all requirements—it's quick and easy, economical, and fairly bursting with finciness.

QUICK MINCEMEAT

- 1 cup prunes
- 1 cup seedless raisins
- 2 cups finely chopped cooking apple
- ½ cup finely chopped suet
- ½ cup finely cut citron
- 1 tsp. allspice
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 tsp. cloves
- 1½ cups apricot whole fruit
- 1 cup salt
- ½ cup brown sugar (packed)
- 2 tsp. grated orange rind
- 1 tbsp. vinegar

Cover prunes with water and boil 15 minutes; drain. Cut prunes from pits into small pieces. Rinse and drain raisins. Combine all ingredients and boil 10 minutes, stirring frequently. Remove from heat. Cool. Sufficient for two 8-inch pies.

Mincemeat tarts make especially good companions for tea. They are equally good with a glass of milk at bedtime. They are also bright additions to any lunch box. These gay holiday treats make the most of even a little mincemeat.

MINCEMEAT TARTS

- 2 cups sifted enriched flour
 - 1 tsp. salt
 - 2-4 cup shortening
 - 1 to 5 tbsp. cold water
 - 1½ cups mincemeat
- Sift together flour and salt. Cut or rub in shortening. Add water. Mix to a dry, crumbly dough. Toss on lightly floured pastry cloth. Press dough together. Roll out ⅛-inch thick. Cut 12 3-inch scalloped rounds and 12 2½-inch doughnut rounds. Place scalloped rounds on ungreased baking sheet. Put 2 tbsp. mincemeat on each round. Top with doughnut round. Seal edges together. Bake in hot oven (450 deg. F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 12 tarts.

BAKED MINCEMEAT FRUIT PUDDING

- 1 cups soft bread crumbs
- 2 large apples or peaches (canned sliced peaches may be used)
- ½ cup mincemeat
- 1 cup fruit juice
- ½ cup light brown sugar
- 3 tbsp. melted butter or margarine

Place 1-3 of the bread crumbs in buttered casserole. Arrange a layer of the thinly sliced peeled fruit over crumbs, then spread with ⅓ of the mincemeat. Blend fruit juice with sugar and butter, and pour 1-3 of the mixture over all. Repeat each layer. Top with bread crumbs and pour remaining liquid over them. Bake in a moderate oven (375 deg. F.) for 40 minutes. Serve hot. Hard sauce or cream may be served over pudding.

MINCEMEAT APPLE DUMPLINGS

- 6 apples
 - Pastry or short biscuit dough
 - ½ cup mincemeat
 - ½ cup brown sugar
 - 2 tsp. butter or margarine
- Peel and core the apples. Roll out pastry or biscuit dough to ⅜ inch thickness. Cut into squares or rounds large enough to cover apples, and place an apple in center of each. Fold pastry up around apples, pressing edges down into holes of apples. Fill centers with mincemeat and top with a tablespoonful of brown sugar and a small lump of butter or margarine. Place in a greased pan, and bake in a hot oven (450 deg. F.) for 10 minutes to set crust, then reduce heat to 400 deg. F. and bake for 30 minutes. Add a few tablespoonfuls of water, if needed, during the baking. Serve with currant jelly sauce.

WCTU Head Favors Ban on Women at Bars

Expressing approval of any measure which would keep young mothers from frequenting neighborhood saloons, Mrs. Minnie E. Graves, president of the Massachusetts Women's Christian Temperance Union, today revealed that appeals for help to her organization from relatives of women alcoholics have increased at an alarming rate recently.

"Just the other day, the husband of a young mother of two children came to us with a desperate plea," she said. "His wife spends all her time drinking in bars with her sister, who is also an alcoholic, leaving the children uncared for at home."

"The city should be cleared of saloons which attract young women. The situation is serious."

Rep. Edmond J. Donlan of West Roxbury has filed a bill with the Legislature which would prevent bars from serving drinks to women, making bars exclusive territory for men.

Mrs. Graves indicated her organization would endorse the bill as a means of cleaning up the city.

"But it should be even more drastic," he declared. We are not in favor of saloons of any kind."

Hub Department Stores Show Top Sales Gain

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—Department store sales throughout the nation increased sharply in November, the Federal Reserve Board reported today, with Boston showing the greatest gain.

The board's index of sales, which makes allowances for seasonal factors, showed sales were three times the average of pre-war 1934-35. The dollar volume of sales for the first 11 months of this year were 8 per cent above the corresponding period of last year.

N. Y. Employers Seeking Apprentice Training Bill

UTICA, N. Y., Dec. 5 (INS)—New York State Building Industry Employers Ass'n today called on labor unions and public officials to support a program of apprentice training.

They declared this step was necessary to create an adequate supply of qualified mechanics to meet the needs of home building and other essential construction, in the face of the existing shortage of building craftsmen.

Former Solon, Sea Bee 66 Veteran, Dies Suddenly

WESTFIELD, Dec. 5.—John A. Saltonstall, 41, who resigned his seat in the legislature to join the Sea Bees, died suddenly at his home.

LORDS' VETO CURB OKD

LONDON, Dec. 5 (INS).—The labor government's bill to curb the House of Lords' veto powers passed the committee stage unchanged. It will be presented to the House of Lords, where it is not expected to be considered before next May.

N. E. Solons Work on Plans To Ease Shortage of Fuel

House Speaker Joseph R. Martin sat down with other New England Congressmen in Washington today to work out a plan for alleviating the fuel shortages in this area.

The group is expected to appoint a small committee to take action speedily to assure sufficient tankers to transport enough fuel oil and gasoline here to prevent hardships.

"BABIES ARE COLD"

Meantime, Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers of Lowell told the House Commerce Committee she had found great suffering in her State, particularly around Lowell where veterans in housing projects can't get fuel oil.

"There are women and babies who are cold," she added.

Mrs. Rogers said she is "not completely satisfied" with figures submitted by the commerce department and transportation agency, adding that there is resentment against shipments of fuel abroad while there is suffering at home.

GET ONE TANKER

In order to take care of the fuel oil needs of the 30,000 occupants of Boston Housing Authority units, the Maritime Commission has released a tanker to the White Fuel Co. of Boston to make one trip.

At the office of Sen. Saltonstall it was said the tanker, a Liberty type vessel, with a capacity of 65,000 barrels, is one of the 51 the commission has for disposal. John P. Farmington, president of the White Fuel Co., based in Saltonstall's company has arranged to buy the oil at a Gulf port.

Action Aplenty Highlights Technicolor 'Unconquered'

Turning back the pages of American history to 1763, Cecil B. DeMille comes up with a Technicolor-bathed conglomerate of war-bitten redskins, stout-hearted palefaces, brutalized bond slaves, black-hearted villains, skirling bagpipes, breathstopping escapes and a Gary Cooper-Paulette Goddard love story that spells box-office in non-lighted caps.

"Unconquered," his latest foray into the past for Paramount, doesn't parse as drama, nor does its dialogue make much sense but, believe you me, yesterday's Paramount and Fenway audiences ate it up like cracker-jack.

The Master is an old hand at giving history the three-ring treatment and in this latest semi-historical reportage he hasn't missed a trick. In another column you may read of a lack of action on another screen but not on the town's pair of DeMille master-minded screens. On them it looks awfully good to the on-gaping-mouthed customers as one hairbreadth round succeeds another in this highly fictionalized Battle of the Wilderness.

In this saga of the savage versus the white man (who could be plenty savage when he chanced to be Howard DaSilva's leering tomahawk-peddler) Cooper alone emerges with dignity and convincing strength and sincerity.

Paulette Goddard

There's an amusing touch in his brush with the war-mongering Indians who are persuaded he can control the needle of a compass. Merely a matter of his loading the chief down with metal weapons.

For a penultimate sequence, Cooper and Paulette shoot the falls in a canoe, Cooper miraculously maneuvering the frail craft beneath the falling water by grabbing onto a convenient branch.

Miss Goddard maintains her cover-girl grooming and her come-hither smile throughout the maddest adventures, her reward the winning of Cooper for better or for worse (what could be, Mister De Mille, you would seem to have exhausted that department).

The producer-director's daughter, Katherine De Mille, turns in a fine performance as DaSilva's understandably jealous Indian wife. P. D.

'A Christmas Carol' Telephone Orders Now

Telephone orders are now being filled for The Trix Theater's production of "A Christmas Carol," Eliot Duvey's dramatization of the beloved Dickens story, which is to be presented the mornings and afternoons of next Saturday and the Saturday following.

Barry Sullivan Registers Personal Triumph

By PEGGY DOYLE

Hollywood's ex-Broadway star, Barry Sullivan, presently doubling as a dick on stage and as a heel on screen, registered solidly with the RKO-Boston customers in his in-person opener yesterday. He is not so happily spotted in the King Brothers' production.

Equipped with a clever satire on his popular Detective Richard Rogue radio serial and his own vibrant personality, Sullivan clicked with the audience from scratch. In his stage act he is assisted by sweater-girl Jacqueline Dalya... and whatever Lana Turner can do for a sweater she can do better.

"That's the longest sweater I ever saw," remarks Sullivan, giving the charming little brunette the once-over-lightly as she, in a blue knitted New-Look gown, saunters upstage from a side aisle.

Bouncing off to a good start with the audience enthusiastically, and instantly committed to the likable, lookable he-man screen star, the well-paced, smartly dialogued act proceeds to a show-stopping finish. It's Oh-Sullivan! week for the duration of the engagement for this cinematic heel, never doubt it.

Another audience pet is Connie Haines, a dark-haired honeychile in a lovely white gown and with a voice that pleases your ears, suh. Her well-chosen repertoire includes "Steamy Steamer," "Someone to Watch Over Me," "But What Are These" and "Civilization."

Those incredible performers-on-strings, Bunin's Puppets, put on a variety show that won well-merited applause. So did the show's curtain-raising Val Martin Trio, featuring Sammy Davis, Jr., for their fast tap-dancing.

And now for the debit side of this report, which concerns "The Gangster," the ambitious King brothers' ambitious psychological study of a trigger-tempered hoodlum who wants to be loved.

Sullivan's efforts to give the character validity are foiled by inept scripting and direction. Dialogue is stressed to the neglect of action, and there is never any clear-cut evidence of just what are these particular rackets which make this motley character so loathed and so feared. Never by any act does he give any proof of his loathsomeness or his power. Belita, co-starred as the gangster's moll, plays it with smugness and wide-eyedness that have a neither-fish-flesh-nor-good-reddening pointlessness. She has seen him given the quit or else warned off by a rival gangster's hired killers but she professes not to know or care what he is or how he gets his money. Her walking out on him, then, is never quite clear.

Akim Tamiroff, as the gangster's intimidated henchman, is excellent. So, too, is Joan Lorring's nice girl who tells off the gangster.

Leahy Predicts Irish Will Win Over Trojans

By FRANK LEAHY

Frank Leahy

Head Coach, Notre Dame University

IT'S ALL or nothing for Notre Dame tomorrow. My lads will undergo the supreme test against Southern California in Los Angeles. More than 102,000 fans will be on hand to see if the hardy Trojans can send the Irish down to their first defeat in two years.

Little wonder that all of us connected with the venture are pardonably nervous. According to reports, the so-called "smart boys" have made Notre Dame a 13½ point favorite to win its ninth straight of the year. This would mean only the tie with Army in 1946 would mar a perfect two-year record.

You can toss out the window this reasoning by the alleged "smart boys." They base their estimation on the intangibles of past and relative scores. They also have a way of disregarding the element of human endeavor, the spirit that rises to supreme heights on occasion. This may be such an occasion for Jeff Cravath and his Trojans tomorrow.

Understand, I am not saying they will win. In fact, and for the first time this year, I am admitting to thinking the Fighting Irish will win. Not that I haven't thought so before certain other games, but this time I want to go along with the lads in making it an all-out affair. It's all or nothing.

Again, being honest I'd like to go on record as saying we'd be very happy with a one-point margin of victory. That victory we'll have, I honestly believe.

Murphy, Powers Accurate Passers

IN THE FIRST PLACE, the Trojans are undefeated. They were tied 7-7 by Rice in the second game of the year. Since then they have met every challenge flung their way. They fought their way past an extremely able UCLA to go into the Rose Bowl against Michigan. They have a pair of deadly accurate passers in Murphy and Powers. Their line anchored around Ferraro, Cleary, Hendren and Clark is powerful, aggressive and as game as you would want to see.

In the second place, Cravath has done a truly fine job in taking almost the same material on hand the past two years and making it click in such a manner. He is an able coach anyway you look at him. He is especially capable of bringing his boys up for a test of vital importance.

Irish Fit Except for Brennan

I HAVE SAID in the past that Notre Dame would like to meet Michigan any time, any place. Since that is impossible this year, at least, then the game with Southern California should go a long way in comparing the Irish with the Wolverines. Michigan meets Southern Cal. on New Year's Day.

With the exception of Terry Brennan—and that is quite an exception if you ask me and even if you don't—my lads are in fine shape physically and otherwise. Johnny Lujack, deservedly, in my opinion, has been awarded the Heisman trophy as 1947's outstanding player. He is a fine lad, modest, willing and a great team player. He should put on quite a show for the fans tomorrow. From end to end our line is in top shape and ready to go.

Last year we were lucky enough to beat Southern California, 26-6. I am not hoping for such a score this year. I'd be delighted to settle for a one-point margin. But it should be quite a contest.

In other contests tomorrow I like LSU to defeat Tulane, Kentucky to beat Villanova, and Utah to beat Arizona.

Notre Dame 13-Point Choice Over Trojans

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5 (AP)—Notre Dame's famous Irish, unbeaten in 17 games and determined to clinch the 1947 mythical national collegiate football crown, rolled into town today heavily favored to blast Southern California's Trojans out of the undefeated-undefeated ranks in their annual classic tomorrow.

Geared for a powerful windup of the season's campaign, Frank Leahy's big warrior band from South Bend is a solid 13-point favorite to knock off the Rose Bowl-bound Trojans in this 18th renewal and 19th game of a series that began back in the days of Rockne and Howard Jones in 1928.

Los Angeles' vast Memorial Coliseum has long since been sold out for the game, and tickets inside the 40-yard stripes have sold for as high as $75 a pair.

Unless rain dampens the enthusiasm of rain-shy Californians, upward of 102,000 will sit in on the contest. Two weeks ago 102,938 watched the Trojans defeat UCLA, 6-0, and sew up the Pacific Coast Conference title and the Rose Bowl bid.

Louis Will Stop Walcott Within 6 Rounds--Conway

By JACK CONWAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 5—"Bomber" Joe Louis rules a prohibitive favorite at odds 9 to 1 to successfully defend his world's heavyweight championship against Jersey Joe Walcott, one of his sparring partners as he prepared for his first bout with Max Schmeling 11 years ago, in their 15-round bout in Madison Square Garden tonight.

The odds mean there is virtually no betting on who will win. What wagering there is on the title contest is in regard to the number of rounds Walcott will be able to stand up before Louis' blistering fire.

Our famous Magic Coin named Louis to win inside of six rounds. The champion will be heavier and slower than he has been for any of his previous bouts. While at Pompton Lake, Joe's weight was never below 212 pounds.

If the 32-year-old Louis were pitted against a young, aggressive fighter who could punch and keep going forward even when hit hard, he would be in for a very rough evening. Louis is in the fortunate position of having the 33-year-old Walcott as an opponent. At the age of 33, one usually does not stage a startling ring upset. Injuries and other unexpected happenings can always upset the greatest champions, and Walcott will have to pin his hopes of winning upon such a break when he crawls through the ropes tonight.

Louis and Walcott will set a new record for gate receipts at the Garden. The present mark is $202,000 and it was established by Jim Maloney and Jack Delaney with a $22 top.

Dan Carroll, who managed Maloney at the time, figures that there was a net of $19 after federal and state taxes. The $30 top price for tonight's bout will leave about $24 after taxes.

Louis' end of the purse will be close to $100,000 while Walcott, who used to be very happy when he got $50 a day, food and lodging for acting as a sparring partner for the champion, will pull down between $35,000 and $40,000 for his effort.

Joe Webster, manager of Walcott, added a little fire to the pre-fight discussions by notifying the Boxing Commission he did not wish Arthur Donovan as referee. Donovan has been third man in the ring in 19 of the "Bomber's" battles in New York.

If Donovan does not referee, the choice is expected to be among Eddie Joseph, who has refereed some of Louis' bouts, Frank Fullam and Ruby Goldstein.

While Louis and Walcott will battle before a capacity crowd, there are few out-of-towners here specially to see the title skirmish. It will be a case of the every day fight fan and people in New York on business or on vacations filling the Garden.

There is no longer a shortage of hotel rooms in New York. The boom that started two years before the war has subsided.

"There are no lines at anything in New York," said a man who knows his Broadway. "You do not need a reservation to get into night spots, while moving picture houses near Times Square often have as many as 1000 to 1500 vacant seats."

New Yorkers and folks in Brooklyn are talking more about Leo Durocher's baseball future than they are about the Louis-Walcott bout. It is felt Durocher and Branch Rickey have come to terms on a 1948 contract and that the formal announcement will be made during the baseball meet-next week.

The public would like to see Durocher back with the Dodgers. It feels Commissioner "Happy" Chandler's one year suspension was sufficient punishment, and there is no desire on the part of most people have talked with make Durocher a martyr.

Louis Weighs 211 Pounds

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (AP)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis weighed in at 211 pounds today for his 24th title defense at Madison Square Garden tonight against Jersey Joe Walcott, who scaled 194½.

The champion, who was first on the scales at the official weighing-in at the Garden, was issued purple trunks for tonight's 15-round bout. The challenger was given white trunks.

Although Louis will have a 16½-pound edge, he will be a quarter of a pound lighter than when he knocked out Tami Maunelli in the first round in September, 1946.

Dr. Vincent Nardiello, New York State Athletic Commission doctor, examined both boxers

MILLION TO SEE FIGHT

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (AP)—The National Broadcasting Co. estimates that close to 1,000,000 persons—the largest viewing audience in television history—will watch the telecast of the Joe Louis-Jersey Joe Walcott heavyweight fight tonight. The bout will be telecast by NBC's east coast network of four stations, in New York, Washington, Philadelphia and Schenectady.

Toledo Rockets Choice over N. H.

TOLEDO, O., Dec. 5 (AP)—University of Toledo Rockets rule a one touchdown favorite in tonight's game today to defeat New Hampshire's Wildcats tomorrow, the second annual Glass Bowl game.

Led by coach William M. Glassford, the visitors will meet out briefly following their arrival today. The Wildcats were defeated this season and have only one match in the past two years.

Toledo completed its drills yesterday with a review of offensive plays. The Rockets, sparked by the running of halfback Dick Hest and superb passing by quarterback Lee Pete had the most successful season in the school's history this year, taking eight victories and losing only to John Carroll at Canisius of Buffalo, N. Y.

Celts Play Rollers

Basketball will enjoy its biggest night so far this season at the Boston Garden, where the Boston Celtics will perform tonight with the Boston Celtics and the Providence Steamrollers featuring

Major to the Celts-Rollers tilt, starting at 6:30 p. m., eight games from the Catholic High School League will stage a jam-packed. The four school games will be St. Patrick's (Watertown) vs. St. Lady's (Newton), Sacred Heart (Weymouth) vs. St. Mary's (Salem), St. Mary's (Walden) vs. Christopher Columbus (Malden Catholic) vs. St. Mary's (Lynn). They will play to eight-minute periods.

The new Providence team, Hanker, has cut his quad to working positions. Ray Wertis, Bob Fitzgibbon and Jerry Kelly, ex-Celt, have been slashed from the squad. Penny Sailors and a couple of former candidates for the Boston team, Ace Maughan and Johnny Knisch, have earned a spot with the Rollers.

Veterans of last year's quintet on the Rhode Island payroll include the three ex-R. I. State stars, Ernie Calverley, Earl Shuman and George Means. Hank Sanders, Dino Martin and Pop Goodwin, and the Sox have added the big man in George Nostrand, who played last season for Cleveland and Toronto. George is a teammate of Kenny Sailors at the University of Wyoming and could be able to work with Sailors if anyone can.

Last season, Providence licked the Boston club on five occasions, while Russell were capturing the win. The two rivals have officially met once this year and Boston won in Providence, 65-63.

School Grid Must Share Spotlight

By BOB WALDO

Although schoolboy football has been filibustering since early September—with-out opposition—it must share a good part of the floor with the onrushing winter sports program this week-end. Bursting forth after steadfast silence since last March will be basketball and hockey.

However, as expected, football will not relinquish its place in the sun without a struggle. Slated for this week-end are two all-star tilts, an interstate clash and one postponed game.

At Braves Field tomorrow afternoon the Boston School and Catholic All-Stars will be meeting for the first time in a series that is likely to be played annually.

Once again the controversy as to whether the T-formation or the Single Wing is the more potent attack will be unfolded. The Boston squad, under the direction of Charlie Fitzgerald, Bernie Kilroy, and Fred Murray (new member of the Boston American Board of Coaches) will employ the single-wing. Messrs. Johnny Prior, Spencer Sullivan, and Jack McCarthy will run the Catholic Leaguers from the T.

Although both are studded with potentially great running and passing backs, it does as a battle of outstanding linemen.

Stars such as Keith Academy's pass-catching, and Dan Slagone, Malden Catholic's championship guards, co-Capt. Paul Dumas and Phil DiSario, or the Boston team's George Foley, B. C. H.; Bob Cusack, Commerce; and Mike Mabry of Latin are apt to steal the show. Dumas, along with end Ernie Opperman, St. John's, will captain the Catholic squad while Dan Brosnahan, English back promoted to a starting post, will lead the Boston schoolboys.

Injuries in both camps have necessitated replacements. In-town newcomers will be center Bob Barton of Latin; guard Red Glenn of Rosindale, while Catholic additions will be quarterback Dick Cunningham, Malden Catholic; guard Ed Daley of St. Mary's (Brookline), and tackle Luke Doohan of Malden Catholic.

Another Saturday daytime clash finds Buzz Harvey's Nashua, N. H., eleven traveling to Manning Bowl to meet Lynn Classical in what is falsely billed for the New England championship.

If Classical's Bill Joyce allows Harry "The Arm" Axenian and George Dullard into the Nashua game, they will be working on a time and a half basis, for they are slated to start in the Suburban North Shore all-star game Sunday.

In a game that holds no significance, Alford and Concord will play their postponed tilt.

Taking its first big bite into gridiron interest will be the Catholic League basketball jamboree at the Garden tonight, which will be carded as a preliminary to the Celtics-Providence game.

Madmen of the Greater Boston and Eastern Mass. Hockey Leagues will take their first turns around the rinks this week-end, with a full four-game program in each league. The G. B. I.'s will do their capers at the Garden tomorrow afternoon, while the Eastern Mass. pucksters swing into action at the Arena.

Olympic Board May Call Emergency Meeting

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Dec. 5 (AP)—An emergency meeting of the International Olympic Committee's executive council may have to be called to mediate the dispute between the Swiss and U. S. Olympic committees, Otto Mayer, Chancellor of the I. O. C., disclosed today.

The U. S. group has threatened to boycott the winter games scheduled at St. Moritz, Jan. 30 to Feb. 8, if the Swiss body, which also is the organizing committee for the games, goes through with its decision to accept the ice hockey entry of the Amateur Hockey Ass'n.

Olympic officials in the United States recognize the amateur Athletic Union as the proper representative of that country and have turned down the A. H. A. request for approval on the grounds that it is "commercial and professional."

Told of a threat by Mayor Carl Nater of St. Moritz to cancel the town's arrangements for the games if the U. S. committee refused to allow its teams to participate in the five winter sports, Mayer said: "This is a terrible situation."

The I. O. C. could only mediate in the dispute, Mayer said, if it was requested to do so by either party and, so far, no such request has been received.

Officiating Poor in Pics' Slugfest With Quebec Team

The Olympics' "home defense" defeated the Shawinigan Falls Cataracts, 8 to 7, last night at the Boston Garden in what was probably the wildest game of the season. The Pics had another team which they use for road purposes. They are known as the "Journey-men."

For sound hockey, the Pics looked extremely good until the third period when the Cats put on a surge that almost licked the cats. They did manage to deaden the score at 7-7 but with 18 seconds remaining in the game, the Pics ended the tie and clinched the game on Al Shill's goal.

The game was not without its comedy. On one occasion, Jack Murphy of the Cats was atop Cliff Simpson back of the Pic net tumbling away with both fists. No penalty.

Later, when Carthy scored a goal, he started swinging lefts and rights at Arnie Kullman. Again no penalty.

It was the poorest officiating this observer has witnessed this year. Cross checks, board checks, hooking and high sticking went unpunished.

In all this wild melee, fortunately only one player was injured. Benny Campbell of the Cats suffered a gash over the eye that required six stitches.

Minors OK Coast League Request

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 5 (AP)—The Minor League Convention in executive session today passed a resolution requesting the major leagues to act upon the Pacific Coast League's request for major league status at their meeting in New York next week and inform the National Association of their action.

The minors voted down the Coast loop's request for higher classification yesterday, although 32 leagues were in favor of the jump with only 17 against. However, the vote fell seven short of the necessary three-fourths vote.

The new resolution was introduced by Victor Collins, president of the Hollywood Club of the PCL.

The minors voted unanimously to take a mail vote on the PCL's request immediately following the decision by the major leagues.

National Association President George Trautman, who presided over the session yesterday, put the clamps on the Coast circuit when he ruled the resolution effected a change in the major-minor agreement.

MIAMI, Dec. 5 (AINS)—The minor leagues wound up their annual convention today after voting $300 a month for life to Mrs. William Brannan, of Durham, N. C., widow of the late minor league czar.

The minors also voted to issue lifetime passes to minor leagues to all permanently disabled veterans of the last war.

Basketball Strike

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 5 (AP)

—A “basketball strike” is the answer of the Scott High School court squad to a school board “housecleaning” ouster of three coaches and the faculty manager.

The team refused to play a game with Wilmerding High last night. The reason, they said, was that the board has ousted head basketball coach Jason Snyder, assistant coaches Bill Berche and Nick Stefke, and faculty manager Mike Oriss.

The team lead the entire student body out of classes Wednesday, but the 550 students returned to school yesterday under the guarantee that the controversy would be aired at a board meeting next Thursday night.

Board members said they were displeased with team records. Some of the students' parents blamed the dispute on “politics.”

Villanova, Kentucky Primed for Contest

CLEVELAND, Dec. 5 (AP)—Villanova and University of Kentucky football squads were here today, primed and ready for tomorrow's first annual Great Lakes Bowl game.

Kentucky Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant said the Wildcats were in tip-top shape except for Don (Dopey) Phelps, his No. 1 break-away back, and Phelps' running mate, Jack Farris. Injuries have forced both to work out only in sweat clothes this week.

Heath Will Bat No. 5 In Braves' '48 Plans

By JOE CASHMAN

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 5.—Now that Geoff "Jeff" Heath has been added to the Braves roster, Manager Billy Southworth already is planning his 1948 batting order in his mind.

"I'll have Earl Torgeson in third spot, Bob Elliott batting clean-up, and Heath swinging fifth," reveals Billy The Kid. That's definite.

"I figure Al Dark will lead off, Jim Russell will be in the second slot, Tommy Holmes will follow Heath and then will come Phil Masi, Connie Ryan and the pitcher. But that part of it is subject to change."

Southworth believes Elliott and Heath will turn out to be the Braves' heaviest one-two right-handed left-handed batting punch in the National League.

Billy won't be disappointed, either. If Elliott can repeat his 1947 stick performance and Heath can duplicate the slugging he did two different seasons with the Cleveland Indians.

Back in 1938, Heath fashioned a .343 stick mark while hitting 21 home runs, knocking in 112 runs and scoring 144 tallies. Three years later, he had another banner campaign as he hit 24 homers, compiled a .323 R.B.I. total and finished with an average of .340.

In recent years, always dissatisfied with his berths in Washington and St. Louis, the hefty slugger from Seattle hasn't been a .300 stickster. Yet, his bat has been mighty potent.

Despite his lowly .251 average with the Browns last season, Heath hit 27 home runs to be runner-up to Ted Williams, knocked in 87 runs with a spiritless last-division club and his 123 hits were good for a total of 238 bases, almost two bases a blow.

There's no denying that Heath isn't the easiest player in baseball to handle. He's been a sulker many a time in the past.

The Braves are banking on his disposition improving now that he's on a first division club and will be playing his home games on a lot where the rightfield barrier will be not much more than 300 feet away from his left-handed swings.

"A fellow with enough power to hit 27 homers as a Brown should be able to hit at least ten more as a Brave," asserts Southworth.

The Braves outbid both the Pirates and Giants to acquire Heath as soon as the Browns obtained the American League waivers necessary to offer him to a National League club.

The Red Sox, Yankees and Tigers felt they didn't need Heath. None of the other A. L. clubs would gamble $10,000 on him, figuring he wouldn't be worth the money unless he were on a club which was up in the race.

The Braves paid more than double the waiver price to get him, maybe four or five times as much. When he's in the mood, Heath can hit with anybody in the business. He can field and run and throw, too, just about as well as he will.

He's a creature of moods. If he's content, he's a standout player. If he's dissatisfied, he's not worth a dime.

Southworth thinks he can keep Geoff happy.

Heath could prove invaluable to the Braves by having one of his good years. They might have won the pennant last year if they had that kind of left-handed batting punch Geoff displayed as an Indian in 1938 and again in 1941.

Heath is now in his 32d year. He was born in Canada, but grew up in Seattle where he was a letter man in four sports when in high school. Indian scouts signed him upon graduation and he made his bow in Cleveland in 1936 after breaking down all the fences in the Three I League with Zanemille and the American Association with Milwaukee.

His acquisition can't hurt and might help the Braves tremendously.

Skiing Made Simple--No. 5

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

SNOWFLOW TURN—When you have mastered the snowplow position, which was explained yesterday, you are ready to learn snowplow turns, and they are most important. Once these are included in your skiing repertoire, you can go on to bigger and better slopes.

For practice, we suggest an easy hill. Start down in the snowplow stance, the tips of the skis together, with the ends pushed out well. Be sure your knees are BENT, the body relaxed, and the weight forward. Do not drag your poles; carry them above your knees.

And now, to make turns, always remember this rule: to swing to the right, place the weight on the LEFT ski; to turn to the left, throw the weight on the RIGHT ski.

When attempting a left turn, for example, BEND the right knee, shifting all your weight to this ski. At the same time, twist your body, particularly your shoulders, in the direction in which you wish to go. Keep the skis as flat as possible.

By maintaining the snowplow position all the way down the slope, and shifting your weight from the right to left ski, as described, a series of swings will result. It is not easy to link turns during early practice, but we have seen many a beginner complete this maneuver after an afternoon of diligent practice.

So try turns to both the left and right constantly. If you don't, you'll join the ranks of "lop-sided skiers"—those who can turn successfully in only one direction.

(In tomorrow's Boston American, the Stem Turn will be explained.)

SUFFOLK TO DRILL AT BSC
Suffolk University hockey squad will hold a practice session at the Boston Skating Club Sunday at 7 a. m.

Rangers Much Better Since Last Game Here

By FRED HOEY

A break for the better appears to be ahead of the Bruins as they tackle the New York Rangers on Boston Garden ice tomorrow night. This is the one team the locals have been able to beat consistently. In the three games, the Bruins have won 3-1, 3-1 and 3-2.

Yet those wins were registered when the Bruins were at full strength and before the Rangers started clicking. It is interesting to note that the Rangers have won four of their last five team games and really have the "hottest" team in the loop at the present time.

Fingers will be crossed today when Trainer Win Green makes another check of Clare Martin's left knee. It appears Clare suffered a pulled tendon in the back of the knee during the Hawks game.

Coach Frankie Boucher has done a grand job with the Rangers. This popular coach stated at the start of the season that his boys might experience a rocky start but he felt certain they would find themselves shortly.

The four-out-of-five wins would indicate that Frankie made a bull's eye prophecy.

Since the Rangers' bad getaway, Boucher has picked up Buddy O'Connor and Frank Eddolls from the Canadiens. More recently, he added Don Raleigh and Eddie Kullman. The new blood was just what the Rangers needed.

Much of the Rangers' recent glory must go to Jim Henry, rookie goalie from Winnipeg. When Chuck Rayner, regular goalie was flattened by a Jack Crawford shot and put on the shelf, Henry took over and has done a grand job.

Louis 211, Walcott 194 1-2 for Bout

By DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (INS)—Broadway and its byways maintained an unstudied calm today as Joe Louis and Jersey Joe Walcott made their first official appearance at the scene of their $200,000 meeting for the world's heavyweight championship.

Their second appearance is to follow at 10 o'clock tonight, this time in the ring itself at Madison Square Garden.

Their noonday encounter came at scale-side in the sparsely populated Garden, with Champion Louis revealing a very trim 211 pounds at the weighing-in ritual.

Walcott, the challenger who qualified via the return-from-oblivion motif, weighed 194½ and looked appropriately solemn as he gingerly stepped off the scales. As an 8-to-1 long shot in the betting, it was hardly a frivolous occasion for this spry but elderly father of six.

Fantastic odds are being offered that he won't survive the scheduled 15 rounds. It is practically even money that he won't come up for the fourth.

Bookmakers "chalk" therefore, seemed to establish the current presentation as even less significant than were many of Louis' previous 23 defenses of the title.

Nonetheless, the Garden ticket racks were only about 400 sales away from a complete sellout at or about $250,000, and estimates were that the gross receipts will total at least $225,000 for a new record at the Garden. Its previous "high" was the $201,000-odd paid in for the Jimmy Maloney-Jack Delaney fight in 1927.

Training camp tales of a strained relationship seemed borne out today when Louis and Walcott met at the scales, and were frigidly brief in their greetings. They shook hands, said "hello" and then pointedly ignored each other.

It may or may not be worth mentioning, meanwhile, that the last time a heavyweight challenger of some distinction was 10-1 in the Broadway books, Max Baer, the irresistible favorite, took a 15-round thrashing from James J. Braddock.

However, any resemblance, either way, between that pair and tonight's principals was wholly coincidental.

Meaning, Walcott isn't the man Braddock was; and Baer never saw the day he had the right to lace Louis' gloves.

It will be the champion's 24th defense of the title since winning it from Braddock in 1937, and his first appearance with the chips supposedly down since September a year ago when he put the bowser on Tani Mauriello in less than a round.

Award Boston AAU Pure Bouts

OMAHA, Dec. 5 (AP)—The National Amateur Athletic Union convention today awarded the National Senior Boxing Championships to Boston to be held on April 5, 6 and 7.

The championships will be sponsored by the New England Ass'n of the AAU.

The National Junior Championships were awarded to Kansas City and probably will be held in March.

The Chicago Tribune was granted AAU permission to bring a team of foreign champions to Chicago to meet the Chicago Golden Glove champions. This meet will be held during the third week of April at the Chicago Stadium.

The Catholic Youth Organization of Chicago was granted permission for a team of CYO tournament champions to meet an all-star team from Ireland, at Chicago in May. Through the Uruguay embassy in Washington, the committee received a request that a survey be made of the possibility of bringing the Uruguay amateur champions to the United States.

CYO Lifts Boycott on Durocher

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (AP)—The Catholic Youth Organization of Brooklyn, which objected to Leo Durocher as manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers last season, said today it would not stand in the way of rehiring him for the same post in the 1948 season.

The Rev. Vincent J. Powell, diocesan director of the CYO—a potent force in Flatbush baseball since it represents 125,000 youths—declared in a statement that if the Dodger management rehires Durocher it "must have evidence and must be convinced that he will be a proper manager."

The front office of the National League pennant winners last season has said it will announce a new team manager shortly.

Fr. Powell said in his statement:

"It is to be hoped that Mr. Durocher, if hired, will recognize the honor bestowed upon him as a public leader and will live up to the responsibilities this honor carries with it."

The CYO withdrew from the Dodger knothole club last Feb. 27 in displeasure with Durocher—a move recognized as detrimental to the club. It rejoined the Knothole Club immediately after Durocher's suspension by Comr. A. B. (Happy) Chandler.

Rickey to Name Bums' Manager Tomorrow

BROOKLYN, Dec. 5 (AP)—President Branch Rickey of the Brooklyn Dodgers said today he would announce his 1948 manager at a press conference scheduled for 11 a. m. (E. S. T.) tomorrow morning.

Rickey had a long conference with Burt Shotton, his 1947 manager, and coaches Ray Blades, Clyde Sukeforth and Jake Pitler this morning, discussing the managerial situation and potential trades to be made at the major league meetings here next week.

At the close of the conference Rickey left his office, apparently bound for another conference with Leo Durocher, who managed the Dodgers until April 9, 1947, when he was suspended for a season by Comr. A. B. Chandler for "conduct detrimental to baseball."

The whereabouts of Durocher, Shotton and the coaches was cloaked in deep secrecy.

30,116 DEER KILLED IN MAINE

AUGUSTA, Me., Dec. 5 (AP)—This year's kill of an estimated 30,116 deer in Maine's curtailed hunting season should provide twice that number of families with a month's supply of juicy steaks and roasts, Island Fisheries and Game Commissioner George J. Stobie said today.

The meat would be worth more than $1,000,000 (million) at current prices, he said.

He based his estimate on figures used by national authorities to evaluate the annual wildlife bag, but added that "my figures are probably conservative owing to the unusually high ratio of bucks shot this year."

All Set—Swedish heavyweight Olle Tandberg gets a close-up view of the steel-like muscle of World Champion Joe Louis, who defends his title tonight in a bout with Jersey Joe Walcott at Madison Square Garden. Tandberg hopes to get a crack at the title in the not too distant future.
